ICC looks to lower area electric bills by $25 a year

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The electric bills of millions of suburban Commonwealth Edison customers could be slashed nearly $25 if an Illinois Commerce Commission motion passes.

The ICC motion, which is directly aimed at how Edison recollects its multi-million dollar franchise fees from its local customers, is an investigation into the restructuring of Edison's rates and how it collects fees and surcharges imposed on the utility by local municipalities.

Mostly at issue is the service area subsidization of a four percent surcharge fee imposed on Edison by the City of Chicago, but paid for by the entire service area, even if the user lives outside the city limits.

"There is an inequity here," said ICC Spokesman Thomas Stack. "We really don't think that it is fair that the entire service area of Com-Ed pay for a four percent Chicago surcharge."

In 1991, the franchise fee paid to the City of Chicago, as reported in Edison's annual report, was $71,492,914, while the cost of reduced and free rate service for local municipalities was $17,260,258.

It is here where the ICC wishes to change how Edison charges the entire service area, some three million customers, for a service which they do not receive.

Edison District Manager Ron Crawford said that only one million of the utility's three million customers live within the city limits of Chicago.

'There is an inequity here. We really don't think that it is fair that the entire service area pay for a four percent Chicago surcharge.'

—Thomas Stack

However, Crawford admitted that presently the entire service area pays for the four percent Chicago surcharge, even customers who live far from the city's limits.

"Customers outside the City of Chicago will see a decrease in their base

Fisher resigns from post on ACHS School Board

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

In an unexpected move before the end of his term as a trustee on the Antioch Consolidated School Board, Antioch resident Thomas Fisher resigned from the board claiming personal reasons for his early departure.

"I can't devote the time that I could before," said Fisher in a telephone interview. "There will be a lot of work ahead for the board and I really feel that it is time for me to move on."

Fisher, who was in his eighth year as a ACHS school board member, leaves the board on Oct. 31 with a year left on his four-year term. Board officials hope to have the position filled by Nov. 1.

Fisher, an active member of the school board, saw three of his children graduate from ACHS and had the unique experience to sign and give them their diplomas.

"That was a great feeling to see your children graduate from high school from that vantage point during the commencement," said Fisher. "I really hoped I could finish out this term and see my final child graduate and sign his diploma, but it didn't work out that way."

According to Fisher, he didn't have any plans to run again next November when his term expired but a variety of personal reasons reduced the amount of time Fisher had to devote to the school district he feels so strongly about.

"I'm very proud of the school," said Fisher. "Except for the budget problems and the overcrowding issue, ACHS is in real good shape, especially in the hands of the new administration."

Fisher said he really likes the board's choices of Dr. Michael Radakovich,

Law lets schools say 'no' to military

NORTH CHICAGO—In a move designed to secure more funding from the federal government for the education of military dependents, Governor Jim Edgar approved legislation Sept. 15 that would allow school districts to drop federal military property out of their boundaries. The bill was sponsored by Lake County Democratic Rep. Grace Mary Stern of Highland Park and Democrat John Matijevich of North Chicago in a move to assist the North Chicago Unit School District and the Highwood-Highland Park school district which service children of military personnel stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training Center and Fort Sheridan. In recent years, the federal government has failed to make full impact aid payments to those district putting District 187, a year away from bankruptcy and causing the elementary and high school districts in Highwood/Highland Park to consolidate into one unit district. That consolidation was approved by referendum last year.

9-year-old will compete in Skokie

WAUCONDA — Nine-year-old Nicole Stevenson will travel to Skokie this weekend to compete in the Jr. Preteen portion of the East Coast Pageant Incorported on Sept. 26 at the Centre East Performing Arts Center. Nicole said she decided to compete because she wants to be a model someday. The pageant is held twice a year in Illinois. This year, about 125-150 girls ages 7-19 will compete in pageants of different age groups. Nicole will be up against about 25 girls in her division.

Lumber drive to aid hurricane victims

MUNDELEIN—A lumber drive is being held to aid victims of Hurricane Andrew through Saturday, Sept. 26, at Oak Creek Plaza on Route 60 in front of the old Polk Brothers store.

The drive is being sponsored by Mary Lou West, who witnessed the destruction of the hurricane while vacationing in Key West, Florida.

Needed is plywood, two by fours, hammers, nails. The drive runs from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. For more information call West at 949-5432.

Panel continues Crossing hearing

GRAYSLAKE—Issues of where to place a roadway, the regional trail system, a park district and village land donation agreements and the location of an interchange are being fine tuned for the Prairie Crossings development. The plats and subs committee of the Grayslake Village Board delayed a recommendation of the proposed 667-acre subdivision and will meet again Sept. 29 at 7:30 p.m. at Grayslake Village Hall.

Sale to aid victims of fire that killed tot

ROUND LAKE PARK—Lake Villa's Good Shepherd Lutheran Church is organizing a rummage sale and auction this weekend to benefit Round Lake Beach residents displaced by the Aug. 30 house fire that killed a one-year-old child. The second-floor fire that took the life of infant Todd Stripling-Watts spared mother Tammy Watts, her boyfriend Richard Robb and her two young children. First-floor resident Diana Bravi also escaped with her two teen-aged children. A "bazaar"-style rummage sale will be held Friday through Sunday, Sept. 25, 26 and 27, at the home of Bravi's mother Judith Karr at 542 N. Ravine Drive, Round Lake Park. Hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. An auction will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Residents were invited to donate sale items, money or help by calling Karr at 546-6373.

Feds say gun dealer is really gunrunner

FOX LAKE — Federal authorities are saying a Fox Lake man is involved in shipping arms to groups fighting in what was Yugoslavia. Richard Tylkowski, 65, and his son, Timothy, 29, were arrested Sept. 17 after they allegedly sold five MAC-11 automatic weapons to agents of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF). The elder Tylkowski, a licensed gun dealer, was held without bail after Assistant U.S. Attorney Brenda Atkinson told a U.S. District Court judge Tylkowski is one of several people involved in shipping arms to Yugoslavia. Atkinson alleged a shipment of 200 weapons were intercepted on their way from Tylkowski's business at 176 E. Grand Ave. to Europe, and her office plans further charges. Shipping the arms violates the Export Control Act.

Ravinia Meadows plan gains consent

GURNEE—Demands for a second fire station in Gurnee heated up as the village board approved a plan the westernmost subdivision in Grand Hunt area. The planned unit development for Ravinia Meadows was approved by a 5-1 vote with Trustee Mark Ratfelders voting no. Trustees heard from a Woodland District 50 worker seeking a moratorium on building and a Gurnee Plan Commission member who voted against the plan.

Swine can be sold, but can't live in town

MUNDELEIN — The Mundelein village board approved an ordinance allowing the sale of swine, but not the keeping of them after considering a complaint that Jungleland Pet Shop on Routes 60 and 45 was selling Vietnamese pot-bellied pigs as pets.

Charles Marino, attorney for the village, told officials that he felt the ordinance was designed primarily to prohibit the raising of farm animals or livestock within the village.

Round Lake High requirements cut

ROUND LAKE—With some board members expressing "regrets," the Round Lake Area School Board this week approved a plan that acknowledges the inevitable: Students at Round Lake High School can't fulfill graduation requirements if the classes aren't offered anymore. The board voted Monday night to cut graduation requirements gradually over the next four years, from the current 22 credits down to 20 credits by the time the class of 1996 gets their diplomas.

Try a unit district
I agree that Antioch Community High School boundaries are too large for modern times. Growth in the Lake Villa and Lindenhurst area will only increase, demonstrating the need for a separate high school in that area. If state law will not allow for the creation of another high school district, as we have heard, the option of a unit district could be explored. It seems to me that having a smaller, closer, more local high school would be to their advantage. Plus, it would lessen the burden on Antioch Community High School and other high schools which they feed into.

Is it Lake Michigan water?
I live in Round Lake Park, and we are paying an arm and a leg for water--supposedly coming from Lake Michigan. Now my ice maker is plugged up with dirt; I can't make ice cubes. The water still has a sulphur smell. I'd like to see in your paper, if you can possibly find out, are we really paying for and getting Lake Michigan water? Or, are we paying for Lake Michigan water and getting it out of the Round Lake well?

It's a great grocery store
Hi, I'm calling about the grocery store monopoly. I can't believe all these people saying bad things about Mayor Welton. I live in Vernon Hills, and I love to go shopping in Welton's Village Market. They have great people working there; the prices are great. Why does everybody have to cut down Mayor Welton. All he wants to do is give everyone a friendly shopping store, and that is what he has done. Just leave him alone, OK?

Teachers' salaries O.K.
This is in response to "Teachers paid well." It's about time someone set the record straight and provided the correct information. District 46 teachers are the third-lowest paid in Lake County. A teacher making over $40,000 has to have (1) earned a Master's degree and (2) put in over 15 years experience. If someone is that dedicated to his community, they should be earning that--plus a whole lot more. Teachers work hard for their living. They work a full day and bring work home, too. They put in weeks over the summer to prepare for the following year. They stay late for meetings, teacher conferences, etc. They teach and care for our children! I, not any teacher, can control where the pay comes from. They are providing a service, and someone has to pay for it. District 46 has had a variety of new programs and services implemented. The people who think teachers aren't earning their pay should come and see the positive influence the teachers are having on our children before bashing those teachers salaries.

Library wants more money
I just came home from the Lake Villa Library hearing on the 26 percent increase in their budget. Wow! I wish that all of us were getting an annual 26 percent increase in pay. This amount, whatever may materialize, in increased assessment money, could have been used to reduce the tax burden of Lake Villa residents who have supported the library's call for more money over the years. But no, the board wants it all--and next year, another 26 percent budget increase. These sure are happy economic times at the library.

Are school buses safe?
Hello; I'm from Vernon Hills. I would like to know why the superintendents of schools do not check school buses, or have the state check school buses, for safety.

A great big thank you
I just wanted to call and say that we have the most wonderful children and their spouses. For our 45th wedding anniversary they had a stretch limo pick us up, take us to Marriott Lincolnshire for dinner and theater and had the limo waiting for us when we came out. Then we came home and had a nice surprise of snacks, etc. We just want them to know that we love that we love them with all our heart, and we thank them so very much. It's something we'll never forget. A great big thanks!

No beach at Round Lake
I have a complaint about the Round Lake area park district. It is supported by our tax monies, yet not everyone gets to use the facilities. They spend a lot of money on a swimming pool, tennis courts and that kind of stuff, but there are people who are interested in things like fishing and boating on Round Lake. But everyone does not have access to the lake. People in Round Lake Beach have a beach, a pier and a boat ramp. Round Lake Park has a beach and a boat ramp. Round Lake, itself, does not have these facilities. I think they should do something to put in a boat ramp and maybe a beach facility for Round Lake--or make some kind of agreement with the other villages so that Round Lake residents can use their facilities. We in Round Lake are paying taxes; we should also get to use the facilities, too.

Library Board overspends
I'm rolling up my sleeves. Joyce Heneberry, Richard Wallens, Mary Johnson, Anthony Gundrum, David Hartwig, James Mitchell, Carolyn Pittman are the people make up the Library Board. The library budget has been increased 26 percent; that's a 5 percent tax increase for Lake Villa and Lindenhurst residents. Let's add some fire to the heat now. The library referendum, on fall ballot, is for a new library building four times the size we have now. Congress is not the only overspender.

A downsized district
Hi, I'm calling from Antioch in response to one of the Lipservice callers about the downsizing of the Antioch

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to law public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendments to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted to the Electors of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 3, 1992.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO ADD SECTION 8.1 TO ARTICLE I

(Crime Victim's Rights)

(Proposed changes in constitutional provisions are indicated by underscoring all new matter and by crossing with a line all matter which is to be deleted. Since this proposal is to add a new section, all the text is underscored.)

ARTICLE I
BILL OF RIGHTS

SECTION 8.1. CRIME VICTIM'S RIGHTS

(a) Crime victims, as defined by law, shall have the following rights as provided by law:
(1) The right to be treated with fairness and respect for their dignity and privacy throughout the criminal justice process.
(2) The right to notification of court proceedings.
(3) The right to communicate with the prosecution.
(4) The right to make a statement to the court at sentencing.
(5) The right to information about the conviction, sentence, imprisonment, and release of the accused.
(6) The right to timely disposition of the case following the arrest of the accused.
(7) The right to be reasonably protected from the accused throughout the criminal justice process.
(8) The right to be present at the trial and all other court proceedings on the same basis as the accused, unless the victim is to testify and the court determines that the victim's testimony would be materially affected if the victim hears other testimony at the trial.
(9) The right to have present at all court proceedings, subject to the rules of evidence, an advocate or other support person of the victim's choice.
(10) The right to restitution.
(b) The General Assembly may provide by law for the enforcement of this Section.
(c) The General Assembly may provide for an assessment against convicted defendants to pay for crime victims' rights.
(d) Nothing in this Section or in any law enacted under this Section shall be construed as creating a basis for vacating a conviction or a ground for appellate relief in any criminal case.

SCHEDULE

This constitutional amendment takes effect upon its approval by the electors of this State.

FORM OF BALLOT

This proposed amendment to Article I will appear upon the ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO ADD SECTION 8.1 TO ARTICLE I

(Crime Victim's Rights)

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT

ARTICLE I of the 1970 Illinois Constitution is known as the "Bill of Rights". Currently, the Bill of Rights specifically guarantees the rights of accused persons in criminal prosecutions, but it does not provide any specific rights for the victims of crimes. This amendment will add Section 8.1 to the Bill of Rights to guarantee that victims of crimes have the right:

1. To fair treatment;
2. To be informed of court proceedings;
3. To confer with the prosecution;
4. To make a statement to the court at sentencing;
5. To receive information about the conviction, sentence, imprisonment and release of the accused;
6. To a timely disposition of the case following the arrest of the accused;
7. To be reasonably protected from the accused;
8. To be present at all court proceedings on the same basis as the accused, unless the victim's presence would materially affect the victim's testimony at trial;
9. To have an advocate or other support person present at all court proceedings;
10. To receive restitution.

The proposition shall appear in the following ballot form.

For the proposed amendment to add Section 8.1 to Article I of the Constitution	YES
	NO

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 1 OF ARTICLE X

(Fundamental Right - Free Schools)

(Proposed changes in the existing constitutional provision are indicated by underscoring all new matter and by crossing with a line all matter which is to be deleted.)

ARTICLE X
EDUCATION

SECTION 1. FUNDAMENTAL RIGHT ~~GOAL~~ - FREE SCHOOLS

A fundamental right ~~goal~~ of the People of the State is the educational development of all persons to the limits of their capacities.

It is the paramount duty of the State to ~~shall~~ provide for a ~~an~~ thorough and efficient system of high quality public education institutions and services and to guarantee equality of educational opportunity as a fundamental right of each citizen. Education in public schools through the secondary level shall be free. The State has the preponderant financial responsibility for financing the system of public education.

There may be such other free education as the General Assembly provides by law.

~~The State has the primary responsibility for financing the system of public education.~~

SCHEDULE

This constitutional amendment takes effect upon its approval by the electors of this State.

FORM OF BALLOT

The proposed amendment to Article X will appear upon the ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 1 TO ARTICLE X

(Education)

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT

The proposed education amendment contains the following provisions:

1. The educational development of all persons to the limits of their capacities is a fundamental "right" instead of "goal."
2. It is the "paramount duty" of the State to:
 (a) Provide a thorough and efficient system of high quality public education, and
 (b) guarantee equality of educational opportunity as a fundamental right.
3. The State has the "preponderant financial responsibility" for financing public education."

The proposition shall appear in the following ballot form.

For the proposed amendment to Section 1 of Article X - Education - of the Constitution	YES
	NO

Sale to aid family displaced by fire

by DAN BERNARD
Lakeland Newspapers

Judith Karr knew she would face the miseries of real people as a charity organizer for Lake Villa's Good Shepherd Lutheran Church. But not this real. Not this close.

Karr's latest project for the church is organizing a rummage sale and auction this weekend to benefit those Round Lake Beach residents displaced when their house went up in flames in the morning of Aug. 30, killing a one-year-old child. The fire that took the life of infant Todd Stripling-Watts spared the other occupants of the second floor apartment, mother Tammy Watts, boyfriend Richard Robb, and Watts' 3-year-old daughter and 5-year-old son. First-floor residents also escaped—Diana Bravi and her 16-year-old son and 14-year-old daughter.

Karr's charity work this weekend is personal as well as professional because Robb is her son. Bravi is her daughter, Bravi's kids her grandchildren.

"There's a personal stake this time, yes," Karr said. "I am interested in both families, obviously."

A "bazaar"-style rummage sale will be held Friday through Sunday, Sept. 25, 26 and 27, at Karr's home at 542 N. Ravine Drive, Round Lake Park (a block west of Hainesville Road and a block north of Washington Street.) Hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. On Saturday, a silent auction will run from 10 a.m. to noon, with an auctioneer from noon to 3 p.m.

Residents were invited to pitch in by donating sale items or money or showing up as volunteers, shoppers or bidders. More information is available from Karr at 546-6373.

"We're looking for just about anything," Karr said. "This is tragedy central."

Karr is Good Shepherd's head of stewardship. Bravi is also a member.

The sale will feature food, games, balloons and a canopy in case it rains.

A separate fund to help cover Watts' funeral expenses has been set up at the First State Bank of Round Lake. Firefighters believe Watt's 3-year-old daughter started the fire by igniting her infant brother's crib-bedding with a cigarette lighter. Tammy Watts incurred numerous burns when she tried in vain to rescue the infant.

Eight Lutheran-affiliated associations have pledged matching funds of $1,500 if the sale's proceeds reaches that amount. And the Lutheran Brotherhood, a church insurance company, will match a total of $3,842.

"This is something that could have happened to anybody," Karr said. "Let's hope we take care of our own, so help us."

ACHS Red Ribbon Day set for Oct. 24

The Parent Network Group at Antioch Community High School will sponsor "Red Ribbon Day" on Oct. 24, inconjunction with Antioch's Homecoming festivities. The volunteers will be on the streets seeking donations for their red ribbons. Please be sure to put your red ribbon on your car mirror to remind everyone to stay drug free and to not drink and drive. All monies raised will be used for our 3rd annual Homecoming activity for Antioch students. Please help us make our effort a success.

Celebrity auction includes 90210 items

The Student Assistant Program at Antioch Community High School will sponsor a Celebrity Auction on Nov. 7 at the school. Place your bid on an autographed 90210 script written by Arron Spelling, an Oprah Winfrey autographed T-shirt, a Hank Williams mug, Gabrielle Carter's 90210 fan club membership, and too many more to mention. Help them help our kids stay drug free.

principal and Dr. Robert Schley, superintendent. "The school is in very capable hands. They have brought fresh and new ideas to keep the school going in the right direction."

Schley, who began his tenure as the ACHS Superintendent on July 1, said he really didn't know Fisher all that well but knew of his accomplishments and contributions to the board.

"He has decided to move on," said Schley.

In response to Fisher's resignation, the board is presently seeking applicants, who live in the school district, to fill the vacant board position. Completed applications from interested candidates are due in the Superintendent's office by Oct. 12. Applications are now available at the Superintendent's office at ACHS.

The board will review all applications and contact candidates for individual interviews.

rate for electric service if this is passed," said Stack in a telephone interview from his Springfield office. "Conversely, Chicago basic rates would have to go up to support the decrease in the number of customers paying the tax surcharge."

Presently, the ICC has no plans to look into specific franchise agreements with local municipalities who receive free or reduced rate service for municipal buildings in exchange for access to utility poles on municipal right of ways.

"There is no proposal to eliminate free municipal service," said Stark in response to several phone calls from local municipal leaders concerned about how the change might affect their individual communities. "Local customer would only be responsible for the specific fee levied by his own local municipality."

Edison was given 60 days to reply to the ICC with specific information and figures on municipality costs incurred by the utility. Stack said that the preliminary hearing has not been set yet and any interested parties have time to make their comments to the ICC.

New arrivals favor baby girls in Antioch

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380

Babies make three

Girls, girls, girls! It must be the season for baby girls—if there is such a thing. Over the last six to seven months I have reported the highlights of several new births in "Hometown Goodies." As I search my memory it seems all of these new little arrivals have been baby girls. I now welcome two more special little ladies into this world.

Rick and Lynette Tierney are the proud parents of a new little baby girl. Ricki Leigh was born on Thursday, Sept. 3, at 1:45 p.m. She weighed in at 7 pounds 4 ounces and was 20 inches long. Little Ricki is Lynette and Rick's first baby and also the first grandchild for Grace and Rich Tierney of Des Plaines. Everyone is extremely excited over her birth including grandma and grandpa, Melody and Leland Senne, of Elk Grove Village, Aunti and Uncle Cindy and Rich Klein, and also Uncle Randy Tierney (who will be the godfather).

I also welcome Michelle ("Mitch") and Pat Bailey's new little daughter. Savana Jo was born on Sept. 15 at Lake Forest Hospital. She is their first baby and weighed in at 7 pounds 2 ounces. I think Savana Jo needs a nick name—how about "Lizard, Jr." since she was born on my birthday? Congratulations to everyone.

Funny story

On September 15 (my birthday) my friend "Sylvia from the city" went shopping with her daughter Renee. When she was in the process of writing out a check for her purchases, she noticed the date and exclaimed "It's the Lizard's birthday today." The sales clerk replied "Oh do you celebrate your pet's birthdays"? Sylvia did not explain!

Retirement

On September 1, there was a tree dedication and reception for Helen Olechny at Grass Lake School. Helen has been an aide at the school for twelve years and recently retired. In her honor a tree was planted on the school grounds by the Board of Education. The board also presented her with an engraved gold heart pendant and a memorable, framed, formal resolution declaring Sept. 1 as Helen Olechny day at GLS.

The PTO provided the refreshments for the reception and Dr. Bill, Superintendent, Ginny Mann, Principal, various staff members many students, parents and members of the Board of Education were on hand for the event. Everyone wishes her well in her new life adventures and sadly bids her farewell.

Antique show

If you are in the market for fine antique, I am sure you realize that Antioch has its very own antique shop in the Park Avenue Mall. Brenda Case, owner of the shop and 25 other antique dealers are hosting an antique show at the Regency Inn in Antioch on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 25 and 26 from 12 noon until 7 p.m. There will also be a costume jewelry artist at the show and will design one of a kind jewelry items of your choice right on the spot. Take this opportunity to add to your antique collection or buy a special gift for a frient.

Emmons School

With the opening of the 1992-93 school year, Emmons welcomed 22 new students to the district. Due to the new construction in the Emmons district, the district is continuing to grow. Emmons will be seeking a building referendum in the spring of 1993 in order to accommodate this definite growth pattern. Naturally everyone is needed to support this endeavor. If you want more information concerning this or would like to help in some way, please contact Superintendent, Matt Tabar at (708)395-1105.

At the August school board meeting the board decided enrollment in the before and after school program was too small to begin the program at this time; plans for the new addition were discussed with the architect; approved morning and afternoon kindergarten sessions; approved the tentative budget and began the board policy manual review project.

Belated birthdays

Wayne Olsen, Sr. of Antioch turned 50 years young on Sept. 10. In order to celebrate this special birthday in style, Wayne's family members took him out to dinner at Mentone's restaurant in Antioch. Little Blake Harrison celebrated his birthday wish to a set of precious twin boys. Little Jeremy and Justin Cook turned two years old on August 22 and on that day they each decided it was time to walk on their own and started taking those first independent steps across the room. Also a happy belated Sept. 11 birthday to their mommy, Robin (Rey) Cook.

New principal

Ginny Mann is the new principal at Grass Lake School. She has worked in the field of education for many years. Her past experiences include a school social worker and the head of the social work department of SEDOL. As the head of this department Ginny Mann was involved in administrative responsibilities for 41 school social workers. she completed an administrative internship at Lake Forest School District No. 67. She is very honored and excited to be the GLS Principal/Social Worker and is looking forward to an educationally productive school year.

Mrs. Mann is very anxious to get to know the staff, students and parents of GLS and urges everyone to contact her with questions, concerns or comments throughout the school year. The school community (staff, students, parents and school board) welcome her aboard.

California fan

My dear California reader, thanks for sending the complimentary note concerning "Hometown Goodies" and the mix up concerning your comments in "Lip Service." Thanks for your support and I'd love to know your name and if you ever do return to Antioch for a visit, send me the particulars of your anticipated arrival and I will extend you a warm welcome to Antioch via this column. As for me coming to the "Taste of Newport" in California, I think not, but thanks for the invite and thanks for referring to me as a "Visiting Dignitary"—sure made me feel like an almost celebrity!

Grass Lake School

Grass Lake School students in grades one through five are enrolled in a swimming program at the Ravenswood YMCA in Lake Villa. The students participate in four sessions of one hour instruction by certified swimming instructors. The sessions began on Sept. 18 with grades four and five attending the first four sessions.

Grass Lake School asks if your child will be out of school, call the school to report the absence. The answering machine will record such calls from 6 a.m. on the (708)395-1620 telephone line. If you are available from 11 a.m. till 1 p.m. during the school day and would like to be a substitute lunch room supervisor, please contact the school at (708)395-1550.

Oakland School

Jim Lienhardt, principal at Oakland School welcomes the new and old families to Oakland School for the 1992-93 school year. Oakland School continues to grow with a present enrollment of 456 students. The staff and students welcome Kathy Munks as the new vocal music teacher.

Hometown Goodies

4-H clubs

Many Lake County 4-H'ers had an award winning day at the 1992 Illinois State Fair. More than 8,000 youngsters exhibited projects in the junior division of the fair. The following seventeen Lake County youths received Superior Awards for their entries. Jim Doolittle, James Mack, Emile Cole, Jonathan Aaltonin, Marja-Leena Aaltonin, Nichole Felice, Paul Wieser, Robert Emery, Todd Hanson, Jane Haetlinger, Nichol Geffert, Cheryl Wilson, Paul Addison, Missy Flood, Kelly Carney, Jeff Lancioni and Hannah Olsen.

Busy place

If you are an Antioch Senior citizen and find yourself looking for some added fun things to do, why not join the Antioch Senior Center. Once again they have a very busy schedule planned for their members. On September 30, members of the center will be going to the Marriott Lincolnshire to see the musical production "Grand Hotel."

If gambling is your thing, why not join the members of the center on October 7 in a trip to Arlington Racetrack. The one-day excursion is open to members of the center. The $22 fee includes coach bus transportation, lunch, admission, a reserved grandstand seat and a racing form.

If you are interested in participating in this outing, please contact Paul Howard at (708)395-7120. Also flu shots will be given at the Antioch Senior Center on Wednesday, Oct. 21 from 1:20 p.m. to 3 p.m. A $5 donation is requested by the Health Dept. but no registration is necessary. If interested in receiving a flu shot simply show up. In addition to flu shots, theatre outings and racetrack excursions, the center has daily activities of lunches, craft shows, card games, aerobics, bingo, et. A visit to the center will give you first-hand information concerning the various activities.

Busy lady

I recently received a call from Mary Bicanic thanking me for the hello in "Hometown Goodies" and inquiring about my garage sale activities. I inquired if she had a tidbit for me. Mary said no and indicated that she led a boring life. As we chatted further, she told me of the many educational and career successes of her daughter Theresa and her son, Peter, of her involvements with her family, and then went on to tell me that many of the young people who went to school with her children have become quite successful.

One of the young people she has kept in contact with is Vic Colander. Vic presently owns his own restaurant in Florida and has established a very successful and profitable business. Mary and her daughter, Theresa, took some art courses at the Art Institute of Chicago. Theresa was one room studying graphic arts and Mary was in another putting her talents to work as she learned different techniques of charcoal drawings.

After a day in class, mom and daughter would enjoy friendly conversation over lunch before saying goodbye and getting on with their separate life styles. In between involvement with her children, her family and her art classes, Mary is kept extremely busy tending the homefires and grounds of her beautiful lake home. Mary, after our conversation I can say to you with great confidence—"You definitely do not lead a boring life."

Thanks for the tidbits. As usual it was a pleasure talking to you and just where do you get all of that wonderful energy? Bottle it and please send me some.

Board meeting

Once again the Grass Lake School Board meetings are being held in the school's Media Center. The newly-painted center looks extremely bright and cheerful. The meeting was called to order and after the approval of the monthly minutes, accounts payable and treasurer's report, the annual budget hearing was conducted and the board then approved the FY93 school budget.

Arlene Gaffrig was hired as a replacement teacher for the LD class for the first semester and Robing Edelman and Faith Jackson were hired as lunchroom supervisors.

The Board received the letter and certificate indicating that GLS has been granted full recognition for the 1992-93 school term. Superintendent, Dr. Ruth Bill, will be forming a committee to look into the possible ways and means of acquiring some much needed new playground equipment. The board set the next date for further development of the policy manual and approval was granted to complete the computer networking for the media center. Last but not least the board would like to congratulate Jennifer Gore, the music teacher, who was married this summer and is now Mrs. Jennifer Walters. The next monthly board meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 13, at 7 p.m.

High voltage controversy

Editor:

After reading the numerous articles the Antioch Reporter concerning the high voltage powerlines proposed by Commonwealth Edison, it has become quite obvious that our local politicians are much more inspired by emotion than logic or reality. It seems that the best weapon a group can use to get their point across is fear of the unknown. Once fear is introduced, logic loses its place in a debate or discussion. I would like to introduce some logic back into the discussion and attempt to bring a little balance to the issue.

First, I would encourage someone interested in the debate to drive down Rte. 83 from Antioch to Round Lake where the proposed high voltage line is planned. The majority of the route is commercial or wet lands with a few houses in the Loon Lake area. The railroad right-a-way is obviously used extensively by Wisconsin Central carrying freight to and from Wisconsin. I would imagine that some of these cars carry toxic or hazardous materials which presents a known risk that residence who moved to the area must have been willing to take. My impression after driving the route was that this seemed like the logical path for a power line that would not detract from any area that did not have a public utility already there.

There is also some confusion concerning EMF and how it is created. In physics, we were taught that a magnetic field is created by a wire carrying an electrical current. The strength of the magnetic field increases as the current through the wire increases.

This is not all bad since these magnetic fields make the electric motors turn used in our homes and at our work. Like those in our furnaces, water wells, refrigerators, air conditioners, dish washers, washing machines and dryers, just to name a few. This same electrical magnetic force guides the electron beams in our TVs, computer screens and in some of our video games. A substantial current passes through the heating elements of our electric ranges and dryer heater elements and even our electric blankets all creating Electric Magnetic Fields.

I would be interested in seeing a comparison of the EMF in our homes from TV and appliances and compare it to the exposure of the proposed powerline 50 feet from the bottom of the pole. I tend to believe that if the concern is really EMF exposure to ourselves and our kids, we should change our life styles.

If high voltage is the concern, then the 15,000 to 30,000 volts used in our TV sets which we let our children sit within 10 feet of two to three hours a day (which is probably a conservative estimate) must be of great concern to all parents and politicians.

Why would Commonwealth Edison want to spend all this money building a new power line when this old one is carrying all the power they are selling at this point? Will building a new line enable them to sell more power? It seems like a lot of expense, bad press and frustration to go through.

Commonwealth Edison or any electric company does not transport or sell any more electricity than is needed by the consumers (thats you and me). For them to sell more power and need extra lines, requires bigger loads. So the most logical method for stopping a power line would be to stop the need for extra power demands.

It is much easier for a politician to come down on a company like Commonwealth Edison for building a power line (since they don't vote) than it is for them to stop the reason for building or needing to upgrade our power lines.

It must seem much more logical for John Matijevich and Suzie Schmidt to propose a moratorium on building high voltage power lines in the county than to put a moratorium on building and construction in the county which is really the root of the majority of the problems that need to be solved. It is much easier to gain political spotlight by scaring people by what the can't see then it is to deal with real issues.

A relevant concept concerning the distribution of electrical power to its user is that by increasing the voltage used to transport that power, the amount of current that must be carried by the wire decreases. Increasing the voltage allows the utility company to transport more power to Antioch, with lower currents and more efficiency. It can therefore be stated that actually building the high voltage line will decrease the current load through these wires which decreases the strength of the EMF. Preventing the construction of the lines actually will increase the EMF along the wires as the areas electrical needs increase.

What then is the effect on the people in our area as the electrical usage increases since we can't get our politicians to put a moratorium on building? The present lines and transformers have a limit to the quantity of current that they can carry and still maintain the normal voltage needed to operate the electrical loads in our homes. "Low voltage" to our appliances causes motors to start slower and work harder.

Hardest hit will be the refrigerator and air conditioner compressor motors, furnace motors and well motors. Any motor that must start under a load must be replaced more frequently. If the voltage drops sufficiently our lights will dim when electrical loads are started, we may see reduced TV picture size. Our electrical appliance will need replacing more frequently. Additional current and heat in the transformers will cause additional failures and more outages.

I imagine Commonwealth Edison will be the target of protests, complaints and law suits when the consumer is confronted with these additional costs associated with inadequate power availability. Do you think John or Susie will come forward and say they are sorry for causing this additional expense, inconvenience and damage to the residence of the area?

Just maybe Commonwealth Edison considers it their function to provide the electricity we use and want when we demand it. Just maybe the utility is attempting to plan for the future needs of our area unlike our politicians who just look at what is wrong. Just maybe we should be applauding commonwealth Edison for thinking about what our community will be demanding in five years and taking action to provide it.

I wish our politicians could think past the upcoming elections like a true statesman. I would hope that our news media would attempt to tell the whole story and report beyond the emotional to put logic into the issue.

Antioch skater aims high at national championships

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

With the glitz of the Olympic games over, for at least the next four years, one Antioch ice skater is working hard to some day make her Olympic dream come true.

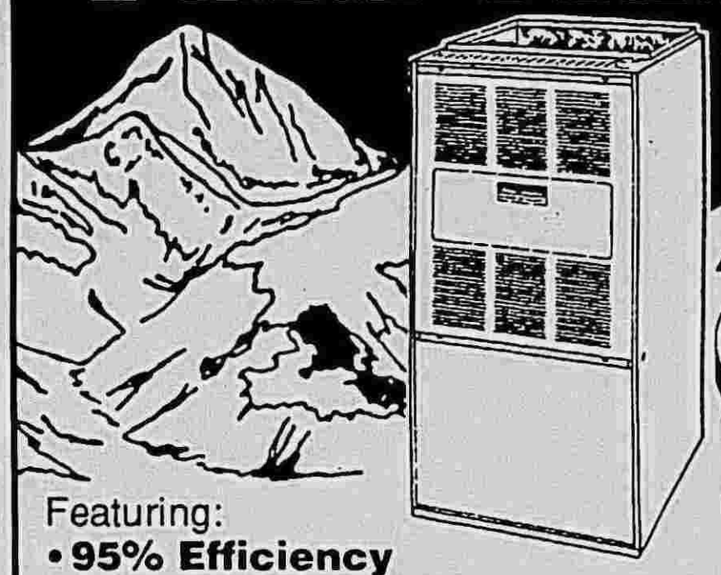

At the Ice Skating Institute of America National Championships held in Dallas, Emmons School seventh-grader Liana Rothermel placed first in two categories, while also gaining a second and a third place in two others.

Rothermel placed first in the footwork and spotlight categories in a championship that drew over 3,300 entries from 27 states.

For her efforts, Rothermel was one of four performers asked to perform at the "Celebration Exhibition" during the closing ceremonies of the week-long event.

Rothermel preformed her spotlight event, where she was able to skate with national and Olympic skaters Todd Sand and Jeni Meno.

ANTIOCH

Criminal Damage

Antioch Police reported that on Sept. 17, a driver-side window of a car was shattered while parked in a lot on the 400 block on Donin Drive. Damage to the car is estimated a $100.

DUI

A McHenry man received a number of traffic citations from the Antioch Police on Sept. 16 after he nearly struck an oncoming squad car on Rte. 83.

According to police reports, Kevin M. Barrett, 36, of 516 S. Emerald Dr., was stopped by police after he allegedly couldn't keep his car in his lane. Barrett received citations for improper lane usage, driving under the influence, and no proof of insurance.

DUI

An Antioch man received a driving under the influence charge after Antioch Police stopped him on Anita St. near Centennial Park for improper lane usage.

According to police reports, John C. Matthews, 21, of 403 Maplewood Dr., received citations for driving under the influence, improper lane usage, operation of an uninsured vehicle, and failure to wear a seatbelt. According to police, Matthews refused to take either a field sobriety or blood alcohol test.

Warrant arrest

An Antioch man, who had been wanted by the Lake County Sheriff's Police on a battery charge, and his girlfriend were arrested by Antioch police on Sept. 13 after allegedly passing out in a truck.

According to police reports, Kevin D. Pray, 34, of 1234 Main St. and Pamela R. Gibson, 33, of 895 Main St. Apt. 3, were arrested on an active warrant and a obstructing justice charge respectively.

Police arrived on the scene after a call described two people passed out in a parked truck. During the arrest of Pray, Gibson allegedly struck the arresting officer several times before she was apprehended for obstructing justice. Pray was transported to Lake County Jail to await a judicial hearing.

Worthwhile purchases

New Forest Preserve purchases are hailed as significant addition to public open space holdings.

Perhaps emboldened by unsuspected voter support last year for more open space acquisition, Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. commissioners nonetheless displayed surprising courage in voting 17-4 to expand the Middlefork Savanna by more than 72 acres at a cost of $2.5 million.

The preserve is bordered on the north and south by Rtes. 176 and 60 and bisected by Soo Line Railroad tracks (old Milwaukee Road). Preservationists regard the preserve as an ecological jewel because it contains the last of the once abundant black prairie soil covering large parts of Lake County.

At the same time, the board voted to spend $5.8 million for about 250 acres along the Fox River, the first preserve property along this historic and important waterway. The two purchases all but depleted district funds for future land acquisition.

Both County Board Chairman Robert Depke of Gurnee and Dist. 6 Rep. Colin McRae of Mundelein, two of county government's most avid pro-development politicians, cast two of the negative votes on the Middlefork acquisition. Depke groused about the $35,000 per acre price and McRae said he was registering a "protest." Their no votes on an immensely popular acquisition are indications that Depke and McRae are getting out of touch with the depth of support for continued public acquisition when there is a strong argument in favor of adding to Forest Preserve holdings.

If commissioners had been as solidly in favor of a $45 million bond issue for more land acquisition has they were for the Middlefork purchase, the "new money" proposal might have carried instead of meeting a narrow defeat. Even so, we don't think voters have changed their mind in that short of time about the importance of adding to Forest Preserve Dist. holdings. If a similar proposal is offered voters again, we feel the land acquisition measure will have a strong chance of passage, especially if County Board members hold to what might be a new attitude toward worthwhile land acquisition.

'Pig' on the loose

Taxpayers questioning motives for installing sewer and water system.

Opponents of a sewer and water plan for Riverwoods, an upscale village in south Lake County served by private wells and septic tanks, are wondering if a proposed $8.1 million bond issue is a veiled attempt to open up the community for big scale development.

They have challenged Mayor Charles E. Smith and other supporters of the bond issue to show where public health dangers exist to legitimate the bond issue for sewer and water improvements that could add $1,000 per year in additional real estate taxes to the typical home. Smith has responded blithely to critics: "If you don't want sewer and water, vote it (bond issue) down." That seems more than a little cavalier considering the seriousness of the situation.

Providing credence to taxpayer concerns is the fact that Lexington Homes is lurking on the outskirts of Riverwoods with plans to build 300 homes on Thorngate Golf Course that will require central sewer and water. Homeowners can't be blamed for wondering if they are being sold a pig in a poke.

Letters to the Editor

Can't keep raising taxes

Editor:

We can't afford it anymore.

Darrell Dick and our school board want a $6 million school so bad they are bringing in students from outside the district to make our classrooms look overcrowded. I can't afford higher taxes every year.

Why don't the developers build the new school? They're the ones getting all the money from all the houses springing up all over.

The swimming pool committee wants the park district to help build their $1 or $2 million pool. More taxes federal, state, county, village all need more money. Where is all the money going?

If our so called leaders would refuse their raises we would have millions of dollars to get all they want without constantly hitting the poor taxpayer.

We taxpayers must get together in full force, across the nation and start fighting the leaders that have the power to make our lives financially unbearable.

Wouldn't you like to have a little money left over from your check to enjoy the good life as much as our leaders?

Child care progress

Editor:

The Child Care Coalition of Lake County applauds the recent announcement by the American Business Collaboration for quality dependent care that marks a turning point for business' involvement in work/family issues.

This collaborative effort on the part of 137 companies to provide corporate funding and expertise for this innovative new program is truly a positive step in helping to define family issues as a major priority in our country today.

The Child Care Coalition of Lake County is proud of its working relationship with many of the companies in the Chicago Area involved in this project. We look forward to continuing our partnership to expand and improve community resources for children and families.

Library spending big

Editor:

At the Lake Villa Public Library public hearing, the audience was unanimous in its opposition to the 26 percent budget increase. One library staffer abstained from taking a position.

The board was totally insensitive to the over two hours of presentations by citizens against the increase. Not even one board member voiced or advocated the public's disapproval. How can we hold the U.C. Congress accountable for our deficit when our own local library board spends money the same way?

Finish water mains

Editor:

To heck with a beauty treatment for some streets in Round Lake Park. Residents on Grandview and Prospect Sts. already are paying for new water mains which we haven't received.

What happened to all the money? Looks like some of it went to remodel the village hall.

Trustees are ready to authorize $75,000 to fix the streets. Let Round Lake Park finish what it started and finish our water mains first.

Help on way in fight against gangs

by BILL SCHROEDER

Digger Phelps reached back for some stirring lockerroom-style oratory to buoy the hopes of 350 persons attending a gang crimes conference that society is on the right track dealing with a problem that seems to worsen by the day.

Phelps, former Notre Dame basketball coach, served as keynote speaker at the first Collar County gang crimes meeting in his capacity as head of Weed and Seed, a federal program designed to infuse funding into high intensity urban gang centers at the grassroot level, or perhaps, more correctly, the asphalt jungle level. Phelps, a Democrat, was appointed by President Bush.

In an emotional appeal, Digger called for a "mindset" on the part of society to swing the tide in favor of law-abiding citizens reclaiming their neighborhoods Somewhat disquieting, Phelps called for a decade of effort to rid American communities of gangs and gang influence. "The only way to do it is from the grassroots level; trickle down doesn't work," asserted Phelps.

The concept of a 10-year effort also was sounded by U.S. Atty. Fred Foreman who played a prominent role in the conference held at Crystal Lake. During coffee-break conversation, Foreman pointed out the progress made against drunk driving. "It's taken about 10 years to get where we are today," Foreman noted solid public support against mixing drinking and driving. Both Phelps and Foreman stressed that a tough road ahead is in store for ousting the gangs.

George Terwilliger, first assistant to the U.S. Atty. General, and gang eradication point man in the Justice Dept., expressed strong sentiment that "something can be done." He stated that "the concept of gang turf is anti-society."

Foreman, former Lake County state's attorney, told this reporter that there's no substitute for jail space when it comes to dealing with gang members. "It's a myth that we can't build our way out of this (gang dilemma)," Foreman asserted. "I'm glad we pushed for a new jail for Lake County."

Waukegan Police Chief Phil Stevenson gave one of the most thorough and encouraging reports of the gruelling day-long meeting. Stevenson reported on success in grafitti removal, establishing school dress codes, enforcing a curfew, instituting youth programs as an alternative to gang membership and hiring gang members for public works projects.

Stevenson said the 1992 summer was "relatively quiet" when just the opposite was predicted. Waukegan police feel that one percent of the city's population is involved in gang activity. That puts Waukegan gang membership at about 700, a scary thought in itself.

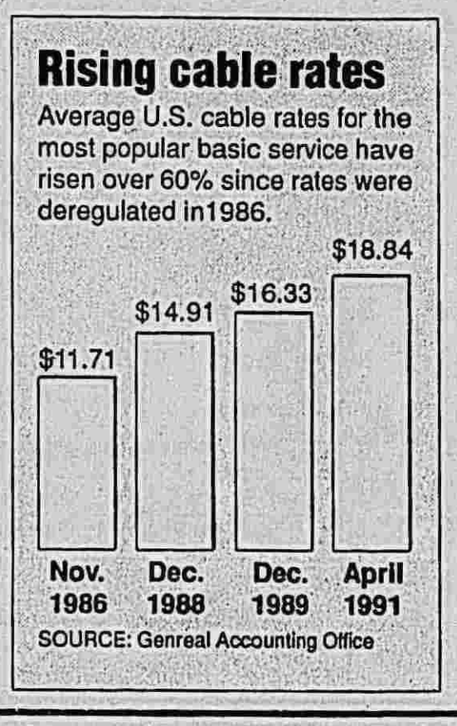

Still, the overall tone of the conference was upbeat. Law enforcement people are prepared for the long-haul. During a period of economic stress, law enforcement definitely is a growth industry. And that's the way it has to be.

faced with the possibility of losing their home. They don't seem to care if your only income is your Social Security benefits or if your at the poverty level, the vultures will get their money or your house. They still don't care if you paid the taxes for the past 40 years. If you can't pay now, you can lose your home.

The system as it stands is discriminatory. Not because of race, religion or gender but because of lack of wealth. It is illegal to inflict cruel and unjust punishment to any prisoner in our jails and yet we inflict cruel and unjust punishment to our honest, hardworking, law biding citizens. This should be tested in the courts.

Put truth in drug laws

Editor:

The article from the Libertyville High School student who advocates the legalization of narcotics is about as far out in left field as possible. One need only look at the street of Waukegan or Chicago today to see the effects of narcotics. People will do anything—including selling their bodies in prostitution—in order to get money for drugs.

Drugs of all types are addictive to most people and once a person experiences a high from a drug there is little he/she can do to resist in the craving for more and greater highs. Kids of 10 and 11 are today being exposed to drugs by the older kids who have become drug dealers. By the time they're 15 or 16 many of them are so far gone that they are hopeless addicts.

Instead of legalization of drugs, let's instead put some real teeth in our laws for prosecuting people who sell drugs. Let's reduce the blood alcohol level for DUI and demand a one-year mandatory imprisonment for somebody caught driving on a revoked license. Let's have stiff penalties for selling alcohol or drugs to minors. Let's demand long prison terms for anybody caught selling drugs and lets demand county jail time for anybody in possession of even the smallest amount of mind altering substance. For the third conviction of sale of drugs there should be life imprisonment with no possibility of parole.

Deserves monument

Editor:

The recent action by the Avon Twp. board dropping the suit against Norm Geary cannot be considered a defeat for Avon Twp. officials.

They accomplished their goal...to cost Geary a great deal of money, muddy up his name and to discourage any political come-back attempt. All this at the taxpayer's expense, while Geary cannot take any legal action to recover his considerable expenses.

The township office holders knew they could never win such an outrageous suit, but allege any political wrong-doing about a man of Geary's stature and the news media will do the rest. How this frivolous suit ever got past the first judge in McHenry County is an excellent argument for merit selection of all judges.

Politics is a harsh and unforgiving profession, and political crusaders such as Geary are aware it is all part of the job description. The cast of politicos aiming for Geary's scalp was formidable and ranged far beyond Avon Twp. lines—Christian, Babcox and Rockenbach were only the local antagonists. Geary played the game of government hard and straight and stood in the way of special interest groups who would pillage and plunder at public expense.

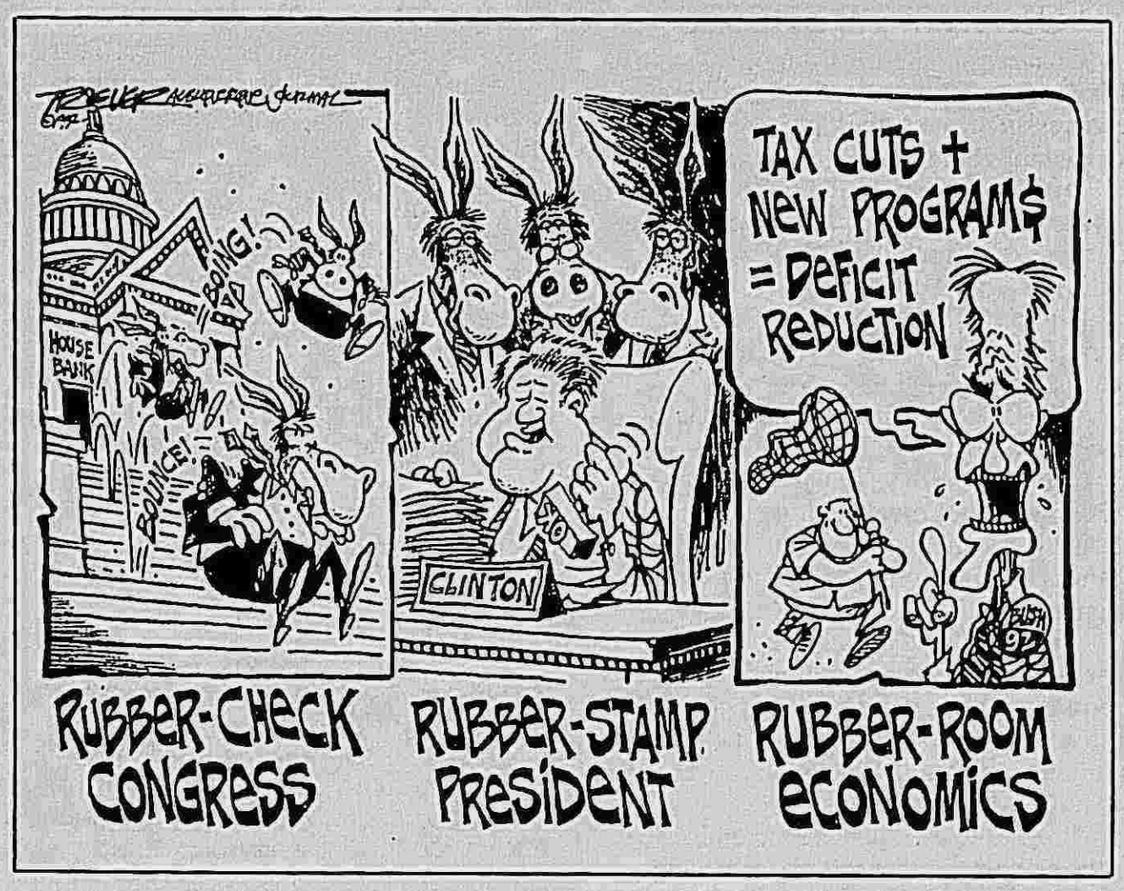

Instead of being sued, Geary should have had a monument dedicated to him for the preservation of the Picket Fence Farm and the Brae Loch Golf Course (1,500 acres), safe-guarding the quality of life and saving Avon Twp. taxpayers $44 million in tax lag, school construction cost, municipal services, etc. As Community Development Chairman, Geary was responsible for several million dollars of federal funds being spent in Avon Twp., nearly twice the amount spent in other areas. And, the town board questioned his $15 a month salary as chairman of the town board. Unbelievable! The question must be asked—what has Supervisor Christian done other than waste $7,000 in legal fees on a frivolous political vendetta?

In Warren Twp., Joe Dada, while he was town clerk, received a salary for being the town clerk and another salary for being the Deputy Township Assessor. The only difference is Dada was in a politically friendly climate.

It is somewhat ironic that Geary's untiring efforts to acquire Brae Loch Golf Course provided a bartending job for Russ Christian—with Geary's approval. Incidentally, Christian, along with the Grayslake Chamber of Commerce, opposed Geary's effort to preserve Brae Loch, a golf course for less than $8,000 per acre.

It is fair to say Geary's defeat was at the hand of the development industry and those who benefit from runaway growth. In the next few years when new schools must be built, tax referenda passed and gridlock traffic is everywhere, the taxpayers of Avon Twp. will fully realize what Geary was trying to do. But then it will be too late.

Crane becomes a traveling man

CRANE FREEBIES

Congressman Phil Crane of the 8th Dist. is a traveling man. He does this as a congressman and a guest of lobbyists and special interest groups.

Dana DeBeaumont Public Relations, who is handling part of the campaign for Democratic challenger Shelia Smith, tallied his travel tab for the past five years.

"From 1987-91 Crane received an average 30 nights' lodging and meals from the special interests.

"That's six weeks' vacation on someone else's tab"

One of those days saw the House vote on assuring the solvency of the Social Security system. Crane missed the vote. He was picking up $5,000 for a speaking engagement.

"In 1989 Crane spent 18 months on other peoples' money, including five in Germany, five in San Diego and got back just in time to vote against raising the minimum wage to $4.55 an hour over the next two years.

"In 1990 Crane spent an incredible 43 nighs on somebody elses' tab, including two weeks in Taiwan, nine nights in Florida and five in Puerto Rico.

"In 1991 it was 31 nights that included stays in Japan, Hawaii and Florida. That was the same year Crane voted four times against extending unemployment benefits."

Apple cobbler

3 Tbls. butter for sautéing apples
2 lbs. cooking apples, cored, peeled, and sliced
1/2 cup raisins
1 1/4 cups sugar
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
1/8 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 lb. butter, melted
1 cup flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup milk
vanilla ice cream or whipped cream for topping

Heat a frying pan and add the 3 tablespoons butter. Put the apples and raisins in the pan and sauté for a few minutes over medium heat until they are tender. Add 1/4 cup of the sugar, and the spices. Stir and set aside.

Pour the melted butter into a 7x11x2-inch baking dish. Mix the remaining cup of sugar with the flour, baking powder, and salt. Mix well and then stir in the milk. Spread this batter on top of the butter.

Pour the apple mixture over the batter and bake in a 350 degree oven for about 50 minutes, or until the crust is golden brown.

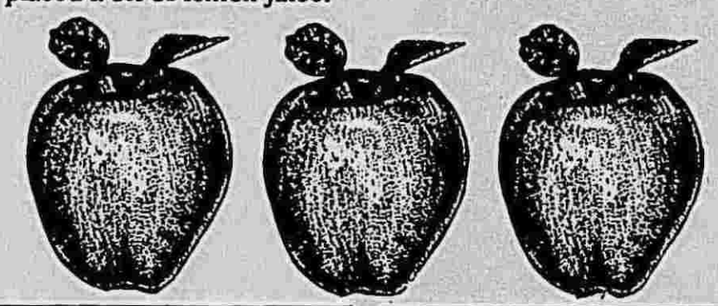

Serve this warm, topped with vanilla ice cream or whipped cream.

Apple butter steak

1 flank steak, about 1 1/2 lbs.
4 Tbls. apple butter
2 Tbls. light soy sauce
2 Tbls. dry sherry
1/4 tsp. freshly grated ginger
4 green onions, chopped

Place the steak on a plate. Mix the remaining ingredients together and rub 2 tablespoons onto the steak, both sides. Allow to marinate for 1/2 hour and then broil on an oven rack to your liking. Turn once. Slice the steak across the grain of the meat and place the piece in an oven-proof dish. Pour the remaining sauce on top of the meat and place under the broiler for just a few moments, thus allowing it to glaze a bit.

Hint: On keeping cut apples from turning brown. Prevent this problem by cutting the apples and immediately placing them in salt water or water in which you have placed a bit of lemon juice.

High School District. Boy, I couldn't agree more. I would like to see something done about Lindenhurst and Lake Villa; I would like to see them have their own high school district, which would take away the overcrowding. I also agree that the boundaries are just too large for our modern times. If a lot of people would get together and petition or write their congressmen, maybe we could get the boundaries changed. Let Antioch be Antioch; separate off Lindenhurst and Lake Villa.

Teachers are paid enough

I was surprised to see the teachers picketing out in front of Lotus School during the Monday night open house. It is my understanding that Fox Lake teachers are some of the highest paid teachers in Lake County. And yet all they ask for each year is more, more, more--instead of looking around the county to see how their salaries compare with teachers in other parts. They just look at what they made last year and want to increase it. I'm glad that the board and the superintendent are holding fast and trying to keep those increases down as much as they can. We certainly want a good education for our children, but I think we have to look at the market and see what other teachers are getting paid. I think that Fox Lake teachers are getting paid what they are worth--if not more.

A debate would be good

We have a lot of problems with our country, and this year people really want to hear what the politicians are going to do about it. There is a great opportunity in a debate format to spend 90 minutes having George Bush and Bill Clinton discuss head to head what these issues are, without a lot of interference from a whole panel of media moderators that try to upstage the candidates and get in slick questions. Bush apparently is either afraid or unable to spend the time to talk about the issues and to debate them openly with Clinton. How can you vote for a guy like that?

Bingo fun for seniors

Thank goodness for the bingo games sponsored by the Moose Lodge of Antioch. This is the one enjoyment that some senior ladies and gentlemen have. It is nice that it is held in the afternoon because the seniors do not like to go out in the evenings. Also, the facilities are nice and clean, and the smokers and nonsmokers are able to sit at different tables.

We want a big store

According to an article in another newspaper, the Village Board of Antioch has agreed to spend $25,000 on another survey to see what we want in Antioch. What we want is a big store like K-Mart, Venture or Target. But I see Target is being built in Vernon Hills and Gurnee. What about politically controlled Antioch? We have nothing, so we have to travel and spend our money elsewhere. Look out during the next election; you all can be replaced with people who will listen to what we want.

Thanks for Lipservice

Hi, I just want to say that Lakeland Newspapers is doing a good job with Lipservice. I've called and gotten everything off my chest, and you printed it. I can see that people have been calling you a lot. Thank you very much.

These places are a mess!

Well, I'm calling you again. I'm from Prairie View, and I still haven't seen my Lipservice phone call printed. I had called and complained about a home on Milwaukee Avenue in Half Day, on the northeast corner, that looks really bad. There are weeds and stuff--it's bad. I would think that they could cut the weeds down and try to make it look nicer. Also, a mile north of there, on the east side of the road, there was a little white house and a kennel that now seems to be the local garbage dump. It's really a shame that the owners of these properties don't care what they look like or what goes on. The people that live here and drive by these properties each day see the mess--it's really a shame. I always thought that the Vernon Hills area was nice and that property owners would be made to keep things up. Apparently not; maybe it's money that talks, and that's how the owners are getting away with it. Who knows?

It won't help the children

Mr. Hubka and the Round Lake School Board care little about the children in Round Lake and the education of those children. Why vote for the referendum when it will not help the children of Round Lake, but will only line the pockets of the administration and send board members to various conventions?

Read my lips

I have a political comment for you. Read my lips: no more Bush. That's my comment. The motto of the day is: so long George.

What about the wetlands?

We understand that the Corps of Engineers was supposed to investigate Sequoit Harbor. Thus far we haven't heard anything about their findings. If this is politically motivated, it's a shame because of all the wetlands that are being used up. Thank you from Antioch.

Their facts are wrong

This is in response to the person that knew a fourth-grade Grayslake teacher who earned $45,802 a year. First of all, that figure is not even on our salary scale. I am a teacher in that district, and I know that anyone who makes anywhere near that amount has taught at least 20 years and probably has an advanced degree. I've taught over 15 years, have a Master's degree and this is the first year I've earned over $30,000--so I don't know where these people get their facts. Our district's pay is still not in the top half of the districts in Lake County. As for the seven and one-half hour day, I only wish that was all the time that teachers put in. Almost every teacher that I know puts in many additional hours of planning, professional growth and making materials--summers included. And many of the peers that I graduated with make two to three times the salary that I do. But that's O.K. As teachers we know that we can actively shape the future . . . or break it.

Seniors worked hard

Hello, this is in regards to the young person that said that he didn't think that seniors should receive a 10 percent discount; that the young people should receive it. Did this person ever stop and think that it was the senior citizens that paid the taxes that built the schools for young people, like the person who called in, to

Camera man pinned hopes on Lake County's growth

by DAN BERNARD
Lakeland Newspapers

Bob Bernhardt gambled his house and his livelihood fourteen years ago when he laid his money on the future of a mall in the middle of the countryside.

When Bernhardt took out a loan with his house as collateral in 1978 and opened Hawthorn Camera in Vernon Hills' Hawthorn Shopping Center, his was the only camera store in the area—and with the exception of his mallmates, nearly the only store of any kind in Vernon Hills.

"The only thing that was here when I opened up was Hawthorn Center," Bernhardt says. "The closest place you could go for grocery shopping was the Eagle in Libertyville. For dinner, it was the pub down the street.

"My wife and I figured we'd take a gamble," Bernhardt says. "If the area didn't take off, we would have lost the house.

"They said Lake County was going to grow.

"But I didn't think I was going to get so much company," he says, laughing.

Nowadays in Vernon Hills, you can barely swing a tripod without hitting a retail space. Bernhardt and Hawthorn Camera are still here—he's since moved west on Town Line Road to the Vernon Plaza strip mall.

And since the rush of retail into the Libertyville-Mundelein-Vernon Hills area is largely corporate-owned or franchised, the relative longevity of Bernhardt's store's may well make it the oldest Mom-'n'-Pop, sole proprietorship in the Hawthorn area. (The Mom is wife Madi Bernhardt.)

Born in Brooklyn, Bernhardt worked for a New York City-based photo-distribution firm which transferred him to Chicago and promptly folded. He landed a job in Vivitar's Northbrook office and lived in Skokie. But when Hawthorn Mall opened in 1974, Bernhardt saw the possibilities and headed north.

The Bernhardts moved into Vernon's Deerpath subdivision in 1977, when the development had no street lights or sidewalks.

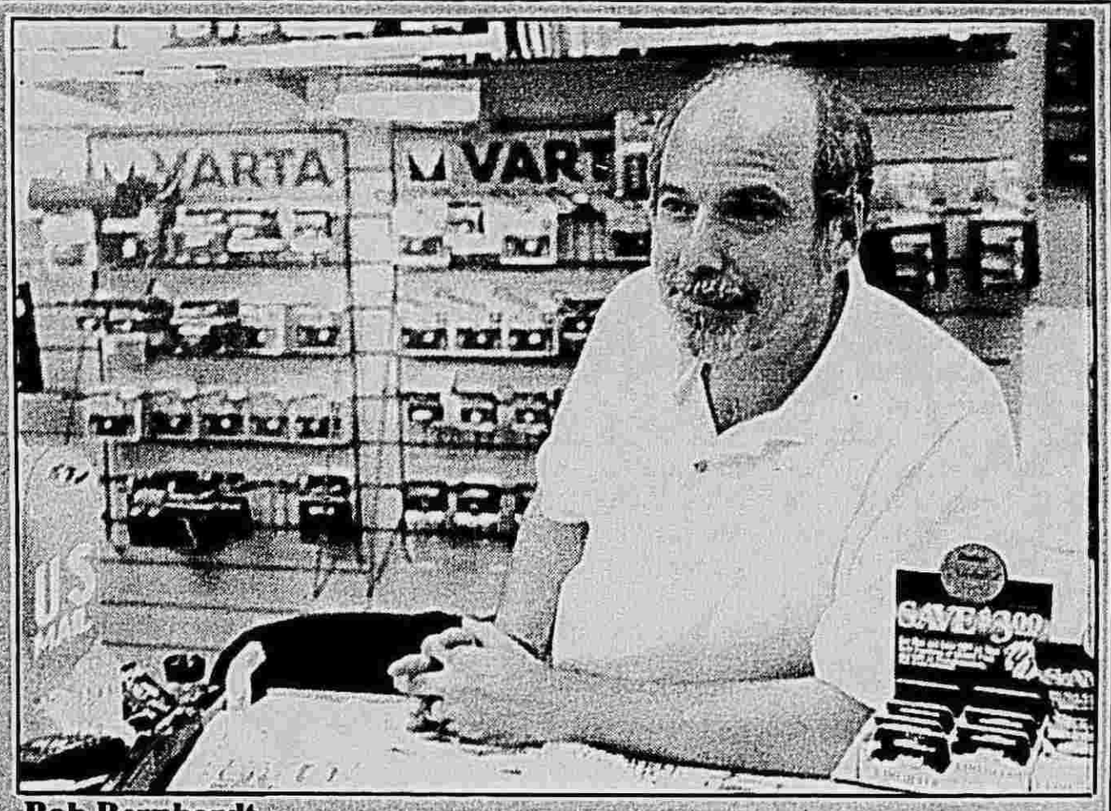

Shortly after Hawthorn Camera opened, Rust-O-Leum moved its headquarters into town, signalling the beginning of a rush of corporate offices in the area.

After enjoying great business in Hawthorn Camera's first years, Bernhardt had to weather the national recession of 1981-'82 that slowed the pace of business growth in Lake County.

The Vernon area started booming again in the mid-'80s, letting Bernhardt know he had made a wise gamble. But ironically, the area's continued business growth has not guaranteed Bernhardt's success. In fact, the competition has made it a little tough for Bernhardt to hang in there.

Now Bernhardt, 46, thinks Vernon Hills should put the brakes on retail development.

"There's too much retail now. It's oversaturated," Bernhardt says. "And yet they're putting another mall up," he says, referring to a mall proposed for south of Rivertree Court mall on Milwaukee Avenue that is expected to be approved by the Vernon Hills Village Board. "We need that like a hole in the wall."

Bob Bernhardt

Though he's surrounded by camera equipment, Bernhardt's not particularly an aficionado of the photographic arts. A former accounting student, he enjoys the business angle of things. And the part of that business he likes to emphasize are the people he meets.

"In the photo business you see all kinds of different people," Bernhardt said. "Every day is different."

Some days are very different. Like the time area police were working on a gruesome murder case and had Bernhardt develop the evidence photos. Or like the veterinarian with the pictures of a frog with a Santa Claus hat on. Or the dentists' pictures of—teeth.

"These dentists, they want enlargements of teeth, pictures of teeth, And the lab prints 'em backwards or upside down," Bernhardt says, laughing.

It's raining off and on the day I'm interviewing Bernhardt. The interview ends just as Hawthorn Camera's business hours do. But as soon as I put down my pen, the rainclouds open and dump a monsoon on the Vernon Plaza parking lot. Bernhardt is amusedly annoyed.

"It couldn't have waited five minutes," Bernhardt mutters.

Then a tall guy comes sprinting across the lot. He's holding something in his hand.

"Is he coming in here?" Bernhardt asks.

Sure enough, the guy scurries under the awning and heads for Hawthorn Camera.

"You always have your last-minute guy," Bernhardt says, smiling. "It never fails." Then he puts on his people face.

"How're you doing, sir?"

Ah, the trials of being the Pop.

Abbott's future secure at Old Mill Creek site

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

It was at a delicate time when Abbott Laboratories was considering its expansion plans. Lake County and state officials learned the huge firm was looking outside of Illinois.

"About a year ago, I had someone report back to me and said they saw some strange vans and they thought it was from Abbott. I met with Gov. James Edgar and told him what a tragedy it would be if Abbott Labs left Lake County," State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-62) said. "Today is a victory day because Abbott has chosen to stay in the county because Abbott has decided to stay in the county where it is headquartered."

A meeting was planned between Edgar and Duane Burnham, Abbott chairman. The result of those nine months of secret negotiations came to fruition Monday as details of Abbott's Routes 45 and 173 site were announced.

Abbott officials said 2,500 jobs will be created and 3,000 during the construction phase. Along with the site north of Gurnee, Abbott is expanding its northeast Abbott Park site.

The state has agreed to improve the area roadwork. Construction will begin at the Abbott Park northeast site this spring.

"The 2,500 jobs will be more of the same. That is more research, more laboratories, more scientists, more of what you are used to seeing at Abbott," Dale Johnson, director of state governmental affairs at Abbott said. Abbott employees live in Lake, Kenosha and McHenry Counties.

The 750 acres of land is in Antioch and Newport townships, land once owned by Arlington Park race track owner Richard Ducchois and Tempel Smith. No exact use is set, but the corporate headquarters will stay near North Chicago.

The site closest to the present location will accommodate 1,400 people with 600,000 square feet with an anticipated cost of $100 million.

"It took us 20 years to build out Abbott north and five to build out Abbott south,' Johnson said.

Depke said the plan fits well with the comprehensive land use plan under study by Abbott's new municipal neighbor, Old Mill Creek.

The county will need to proceed with a zoning change to zoning. Johnson said this is a broad-based classification which should fit Abbott's needs. No specific agreement has been signed, as Abbott is working on the "good faith of the county chairman, Depke," Johnson said.

One of the finalists in the expansion site search was just over the Wisconsin line. It had sewer and water, facilities which Lake County will have to provide. Martin Galantha, Lake County superintendent of public works, said it is too early to discuss capacity or exact site.

"This is a major economic boost to Illinois. Abbott Laboratories is one of our state's largest and most important employers with more than 47,000 worldwide employees, including 13,000 in Illinois. This major expansion announcement by Abbott affirms my faith in the vitality of Illinois' business climate," Gov. Edgar stated in prepared remarks.

"I think we are in a good position to start with. Our unemployment is about seven percent. To let this go out of Lake County to another state or somewhere else, would have been devastating.To keep a company like this born and raised in Lake County is very important. We should do anything we can do," Lake County Board Chairman Bob Depke said.

Abbott will receive a $1 million bond from the county as an incentive, Depke said.

Antioch and Lindenhurst officials were thanked for keeping the negotiations quiet when Abbott was looking at sites in those villages.

"This is a prime example of what can happen when governmental bodies work together," Churchill said.

Negotiators listen

Three of the key people who negotiated the deal to have Abbott Laboratories stay in Lake County for its expansion listen at a press conference. From left: Harry Pettingill, manager for corporate facilities planning at Abbott; State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-62) and Lake County Board Chairman Robert Depke.

Irrevocable trust for insurance— the last loophole?

This Way to Wealth

by R. MIDDLETON/ J. MONTGOMERY

As our clients mature, more and more often we find ourselves dealing with significant life insurance in the estate. "What should we do?" ask our clients.

"Get it out of your estate," we advise. Now, we are not suggesting that the client let the polices lapse or borrow against them.

Instead, we are advising clients to leverage their insurance investment by changing the ownership of the policy to a trust. This "removes" the insurance from the estate and avoids the estate tax on the insurance that was includable in the estate.

Insurance remains one of the last investments that has both preferred income tax treatment, and—properly treated—preferred estate tax treatment. Insurance is only subject to estate tax if the insured holds "incidents of ownership" in the policy (which include the right to change beneficiaries and to borrow against the policy) when at death.

A better way

Generally, when applying for a life insurance policy we find that our clients are the applicants and the owners of the insurance, with family members (spouse and children) listed as the beneficiaries. This means that, at the death of the insured, the life insurance is counted as part of the insured's estate in determining the federal estate tax.

Is there a better way?

Yes.

Before the insurance is applied for, the insured can create an irrevocable trust. The terms of the trust would parallel the terms of the insured's general estate plan—that is, the spouse and children (or other preferred beneficiaries) would be beneficiaries of the trust.

The spouse would have a life interest only, and the trust would be distributed to children after the spouse's death. A trustee of the trust is appointed to act currently.

Policy ownership

Then, the insurance is applied for, but this time the insured is the applicant and the trust is the owner and beneficiary of the policy. In this fashion, the insured never has an incident of ownership in the policy, and the policy will escape taxation in the estate of both the insured and the insured's spouse. This trust can double the amounts ultimately passing to the family from the insurance proceeds.

Live three years

The irrevocable trust is not without its administrative costs. As the owner, the trust must pay the premiums.

This is generally accomplished by the insured transferring the premium payments to the trustee; the trustee holds those amounts for a period of time to give the spouse and children an opportunity to exercise temporary withdrawal rights over the premiums; then the trustee makes the premium payments.

This withdrawal right, called a "Crummey" right, after the legal case that approved them for this use, is one of the required features of this irrevocable trust to qualify gifts to the trust for the $10,000 annual exclusion from gift tax.

The irrevocable trust can also be used for existing insurance, but the insured must survive the transfer by three years in order to achieve the estate tax exclusion.

This is a manageable amount of paperwork that can have a tremendous payoff to the family, and can make insurance an even more attractive investment. This is why we sometimes call the trust "the last loophole".

Low interest rates are forcing people out of retirement homes

by ALAN NADOLNA

We recently spoke to a group of residents at a local retirement facility. Needless to say, the primary concern of these people was the effect of low interest rates on their fixed incomes. Nearly one-third of the residents said they might be forced to leave the facility because of inadequate income.

Many senior citizens are faced with the current dilemma of low rates on certificates of deposit versus the possibility of higher returns coupled with the risk of loss with other investment options.

There is an alternative that will allow many to receive three to four times the income they currently receive with certificates of deposit. This can be done, without incurring substantial risk, through the use of annuities.

In this case, an immediate annuity would be the vehicle selected to increase monthly income and enable the recipient to retain their current life style.

Immediate annuities are unusual, but really a simple investment. In exchange for a lump sum, an insurance company provides a payment each month for life or a selected period of time. More than half of the income received from the immediate annuity is tax-free. The tax-free portion of the income is considered a return of principal.

The interest rate on immediate annuities is higher than certificates of deposit and similar instruments because it is based on long term rates of interest. In addition, the insurance company knows that they will have the money for a long period of time.

Payments can be structured to last as long as the buyer lives, or as long as the buyer and spouse live. An additional safety feature is an income guaranteed for both lifetimes with a minimum payment period of ten or twenty years.

The purchase of an immediate annuity is irreversible, so great care should be taken before getting started. Buyers should use only a portion of their available funds—perhaps 25 to 35 percent. Since the income is so high, other funds can be used for accumulation to rebuild assets used for the immediate annuity.

Rates between insurance companies vary widely. Therefore comparisons between companies and their plans are critical. The older the buyer, the higher the income received. A number of annuities now offer some inflation protection in the form of higher payments if interest rates move up. One safety technique is to buy annuities from more than one company and over a three to five year period. This diversification will allow for interest rate fluctuation.

Many investors have combined the tax-free buildup available with deferred annuities and the high tax favored income of immediate annuities to provide worry free lifetime retirement income.

Cuttin' a rug is second nature

Remember tripping the light fantastic, the jitterbug and fountain sodas? Those days have returned — and continue to return at the 12,000-square foot Antique Village Museum's "Village Hall" in Union.

This step back in time is highlighted by the monthly ballroom dancing at the Donley family's banquet hall, just a two-step away off the juncture or Route 20 and Marengo Road.

Cutting a rug in Union is second nature to these dancers, and the man behind the scenes, the one placing the rug to cut, is Ted Bonconski of Algonquin.

Bonconski organizes the dances, books the bands and takes it upon himself to make sure everyone has a good time. Bonconski said he got the idea of setting up the dances again (he once had them at the Blue Moon), after attending an anniversary party at Antique Village. Owners Mike and Randy Donley admitted, they were a little skeptical at first, but Bonconski assured them he knew what he was doing. It was a Field of Dreams kind-of-thing: If you do it, they will dance.

After it was billed to the public and set up, 1,000s of people have come to dance at this step back in time.

More than 200 come to dance, some coming from more than 60 to 70 miles away.

Dances at Antique Village, 8512 South Union Road, are open to the public. The next dance will be Oct. 2. Admission is $5. Doors open at 7 p.m., dancing at 8 p.m. Close is at midnight. Call (815) 923-2214.

Upcoming dances and bands are: Oct. 23 — Country Kings; Oct. 30 — Don Peachy; Nov. 6 — Kenny Hofer; Nov. 13 — Country Kings; Nov. 20 — Bob Dozak; Nov. 27 — Moonlighters.

Treadmill walking is effective exercise for almost everyone

As more and more people have become aware of the importance of eating healthfully and exercising regularly, increased attention is being paid to the benefits of various fitness programs and exercise programs and exercise options.

Walking has been shown to have benefits for virtually everyone, regardless of current fitness levels, and even those who hate the outdoors to take advantage of indoor tracks in gyms, enclosed shopping malls and treadmills for home use.

In fact, treadmills provide a particularly effective form of walking, because the body is constantly in motion, working against gravity. Some treadmills, can provide information on the effectiveness of the workout while it is in progress. For instance, at the push of a button, a display of the total calories burned, the speed from one to 10 miles, the elapsed time, distance, pace in minutes per mile, and the percent of incline will appear.

Advanced programming capabilities also make it possible to determine the user's fitness level and then key in the most appropriate of the programs.

Whether the goal is weight loss, strength endurance, cardiovascular exercise or general toning and fitness, no other single piece of exercise equipment can work as many muscle groups naturally, without strain and discomfort.

Research has shown that treadmill walking can help: reduce stress, burn fat, increase endurance, keep blood vessels more elastic, speed up metabolism, prevent osteoporosis by slowing down bone de-mineralization.

Maintain erect posture by strengthening back, hip and leg muscles, reduce risk of back problems, maintain muscle mass and muscle tone, improve circulation to the joints, increase heart volume, heart weight and cardiac output, increase circulation to the skin, making it look healthier, normalize blood pressure.

Perhaps best of all, exercising on an in-home treadmill is convenient, which makes it the most consistent and effective form of walking.

Blue Bay becoming a family-fare tradition

As restaurants come and go, the really good ones flourish, and that's the case with the Blue Bay Family Restaurant, 855 E. Rollins Rd. (Round Lake Commons).

Owner John Papaioannou has put together just the right combination of breakfasts, lunches, dinners and dessert treats to keep them coming back for nearly seven years.

The Blue Bay offers great-tasting food and prices that fit into a big-family budget. Kids can eat cheaply from the large children's menu, which offers several wholesome choices. And, senior citizens are encouraged to take advantage of Blue Bay's discounts.

Start the day off with selections from the extensive breakfast list. Several variations of steak and eggs are big favorites, as well as all the other omelettes and egg dishes. The pancakes, crepes and Belgian waffles are second to none. Egg Beaters are available as a substitute, and the Blue Bay prides itself in using Oscar Meyer meat products.

Later in the day, try one of the deluxe sandwiches, which come complete with soup and fries. The huge sandwich menu goes from big burgers to gyros the Francheezie Deluxe.

Dinners include soup and salad, dessert and a beverage. Steak, chicken and seafood and Italian and Greek entrees are offered for your dining delight. Some specialities are baby beef liver, veal cutlets and the gyros plate.

There's also a complete list of croissant sandwiches and refreshing salads.

If you still have room after that big meal, the Blue Bay will tempt you with creamy concoctions from its fountain or homemade pastries. The Blue Bay has four different varieties of cheese cake.

The Blue Bay is open from 5 a.m. until midnight weekdays. During the weekends, it's open 24 hours.

Major credit cards, including Visa, Mastercard and Discover are welcome.

HECHT AND MACARTHUR PLAY RUNAWAY HIT!

Not many plays have enjoyed such long lived appeal as The Front Page. From the remarkable collaborative talents of Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur has come a truly American classic for the stage.

Extra, Extra! Bowen Park's 'The Front Page' begins run

review by CLAUDIA M. LENART

Step into the press room in the Criminal Courts building, Chicago, 1920s. It was a time when journalists were despised by the public as liars, bums and their paychecks showed their ill-esteem. O.K., maybe some things haven't changed that much.

But some things have, and the distinctive flavor of a bygone era is caught in Bowen Park Theatre's rendition of the 1928 classic, "The Front Page," playing at Goodfellow Hall in Waukegan's Bowen Park.

These were the days when the only women welcome into the press room came via paper, the poster girls. Racial and ethnic slurs were commonplace then. A newspaper was news — fast-breaking, ever-changing, sensational news.

Keeping pace with the energy of an era when Chicago was known as a newspaper town, "The Front Page" is a fast-moving comedy. It was written by Charles MacArthur and Ben Hecht, two Chicago reporters who wrote from experience having worked out of the Criminal Courts press room. "The Front Page" opened in New York in 1928 and was an immediate hit. It was revised and adapted many times and there were five film versions based on the "The Front Page."

Bowen Park Theatre's interpretation of the journalism classic, directed by Mark Heller, is high-energy and convincing.

All the action takes place in the press room of the Criminal Courts building at 54 W. Hubbard St., a building which still stands today and celebrates its 100th anniversary this year. The room is painted yellow, has wood trim, hardwood floors and a window view of nearby buildings that is realistic. There are a couple of desks, a wooden table and a bevy of ringing phones. Stage designer James Neal sets the scene for a journey into Chicago's tumultuous past.

The bustle centers around the final hours leading up to the execution of Earl Williams (Rick Schram) accused of murdering a "colored" cop. Newsmen from eight competing Chicago newspapers frantically search for a new angle on the hanging stretching to the contents of William's last meal.

Meanwhile Hildy Johnson (Jason Glick), reporter for the Herald Examiner, struts into the press room, suitcase in tow, and announces that he's getting married and giving up the news biz for a high falutin', respectable job in advertising where he'll be paid $150 a week.

While Hildy prepares for a train ride to a new life in New York City, Williams breaks lose. Before long, Hildy gets caught up in the news game in quest of a scoop. Throughout, he's caught between the demands of his domineering managing editor, Walter Burns (Patrick Kerr) and the pleas of his bride-to-be Peggy Grant (Virginia Jones) to give up this dirty business.

Every time Hildy is ready to board the train, something breaks until finally the insane Williams climbs into the press room while Hildy is alone. Intent on getting the scoop, Hildy hides him in a roll-top desk. When Peggy comes looking for him he tries to explain to her that this is "the biggest story in years." Her reply rings true — "The biggest story in the whole world and the next day everybody's forgotten it."

Fred Zegelian gives a comical performance as the bumbling Sheriff Hartman, too tight vest and a habit of the dropsies, who is intent on executing Williams in order to sway the "colored vote" in the upcoming election. Political corruption and gangsters are interwoven in the plot.

The cast includes 25 actors and some of the funniest performances come from the supporting cast. Barbara Elam is hilarious as Hildy's haughty mother-in-law-to be, Mrs. Grant, clad in fur and rubbers, who's visibly disgusted at every action in this press room full of "bums." In researching the role, Elam found that Mrs. Grant was based on Helen Hayes' mother, Charles MacArthur's mother-in-law.

Also noteworthy is Mr. Pincus (Leo Kalisz), the governor's messenger, who with his squealing voice makes every utterance a cause for laughter.

"The Front Page" is Bowen Park's first production of the season. If its quality is any indication of what's in store in upcoming productions, it ought to be a "swell' season.

"The Front Page" runs through Oct. 10, Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. There will be a Sunday matinee Oct. 4 at 3 p.m. and a Thursday evening performance Oct. 8. Tickets are $9 to $12. For tickets and information call (708)360-4741.

Eastern Star fund raiser open to public Oct. 3

Many people are unaware that the Order of the Eastern Star is a multi-million dollar organization that sponsors many fund raisers to benefit charitable organizations. One such fund raiser is the Tricky Tray Party on Saturday, Oct. 3, at the Grayslake Masonic Temple, which is open to the public.

For the Tray Party, the 125 members of the Sorosis Chapter No. 329 of the Order of the Eastern Star decorate and fill trays for a Chinese-style auction. Typical tray contents are homemade jams and jellies, baked goods or cosmetics--with a value of at least $10.

The $3 admission donation includes 25 chances to win a door prize, the opportunity to participate in the auction and refreshments. The Temple, located at the corner of Center and Lake streets in Grayslake, will open at 6:30 p.m. for the event; the auction will begin at 7:45 p.m.

Lois Lane, past matron of the Sorosis Chapter No. 329, explained that the Order of the Eastern Star is a worldwide charitable organization that has raised money for cancer and heart research, the Make-A-Wish Foundation and college scholarships. In addition, the Illinois chapters of Eastern Star totally fund the Eastern Star Home for the Aged in Macomb, Ill.

Illinois chapters are also involved in volunteer work. Members have volunteered in day-care centers, hospitals, nursing homes and have shopped and run errands for those who need assistance.

Begun in Massachusetts in 1849 as an organization for woman relatives of men that belonged to the Masonic Order, Eastern Star has changed with the times and now accepts both women and men in its organization. The first Illinois chapter began 116 years ago, in 1876.

Lane has been a member of Eastern Star for 47 years. She joined in Rock Island, Ill. and transferred to the Grayslake chapter when she moved to this area in 1982.

Also a past grand officer, Lane plans on attending the upcoming Grand Chapter Convention of the Order of the Eastern Star which will be held in Springfield the weekend of Sept. 25-26. "I wouldn't miss Grand Chapter," said Lane during a phone interview. "So many members will be there--we're a very large group."

Anyone can become a member of the Order of the Eastern Star if there is a Masonic affiliation--such as a husband, father, grandfather or brother who is in good standing or was in good standing at the time of death.

For more information about the Order of the Eastern Star or about the Tricky Tray Party fund raiser, call Lane at 815/344-4622.—by CONNIE KINDSVATER

'Cinderella' comes to Forest View

In partnership with School Dist. 214 Community Education, The Papai Players will present the production of "Cinderella" a one hour musical of the most enchanting classic fairy tale. Based on the original story and characters, this play is performed by professional adult performers at the Forest View Education Center Theater, 2121 S. Goebbert Rd. in Arlington Heights.

The professional children's theater company has been performing for the community for 15 years. A unique feature of the Papai Players production of "Cinderella" is the dog, Rover, who protects Cinderella and is granted speech by the Fairy Godmother.

Performances will be held Saturdays, Oct. 3, 10, 17 and 21 and Nov. 7 at 2 p.m.; Sunday, Nov. 8 at 2 p.m.; Monday, Oct. 12 at 2 p.m.; Wednesday, Nov. 11 at 2 p.m. and Thursdays, Oct. 22 and Nov. 5 at 10 a.m.

Tickets are $5 and advance group purchases of 20 or more at $4. For further information call (708)364-8707 or (708)359-9556.

Classic car rally set in Lake Geneva

Return to the colorful days of yesteryear, as the 15th Annual Classic Car Rally is held in Lake Geneva, Wis. on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 26 and 27 hundreds of classic, vintage and special interest vehicles will tour around the lake in both directions.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Blanchette of Antioch with their 1964 Chevrolet Impala.

The annual event, is sponsored by the Corinne Kreissl Memorial Foundation, Inc., of Lake Geneva with the cooperation of the Americana Lake Geneva Resort, Geneva Lake Area Chamber of Commerce, Walworth County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, Walworth County CB Radio Club, and Lake Geneva Rotary Club. Over $5,000 in prizes await the winners of the around the lake tour for children's cancer research. The host site for the event is the Americana, one mile east of downtown Lake Geneva.

Registration for the rally is from 2 to 6 p.m. on Saturday or from 8 to 11 a.m. on Sunday at the Americana Ski Chalet.

The Classic Car Rally's own air wing called, "Lifelight" or "Flight for Life," featuring antique airplanes and Warbirds from the World War II ear, will be in the sky over the event on Sunday only, weather permitting. A fly by over the car show is planned between 1 and 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, as the vehicles are lined up at the Ski Lodge.

The Classic Car Rally will again feature a Grand Car Show Finale at the Americana resort on Sunday at noon. Prizes, trophies, consolation prizes and dash plaques to participants will be awarded at 2 p.m. after winners for both days are determined.

Last year's event brought 900 vehicles and raised $20,000. Since the event was originated in 1978, $165,000 has been raised for childhood cancer research in memory of Corinne Kreissl.

The cast of "Sneakers"

Cast great, 'Sneakers' slips

We were anxious to see "Sneakers," because of its strong cast and the great media ballyhoo that preceded it. Besides, despite his age and a little weathering, Robert Redford could probably get by standing on an empty stage and reading the phone book.

"Sneakers" is a good movie, not a great movie, but most of the credit for the "good" rating is due to the marvelous cast — all of whom, sans Redford — could have had their parts expanded as far as we were concerned.

"Sneakers" is all Redford, and that's not all bad, surrounded by a bunch of characters, each well-defined by Sydney Poitier, Ben Kingsley, Dan Aykroyd, Mary McDonnell, River Phoenix and the guy that steals many scenes from under Redford's nose, David Strathairn.

All of the above are involved in a high tech investigative firm that steals things to teach the owners how to stop real thieves from doing the same.

They are duped into thinking that they have been hired by the a U. S. government security agency to retrieve a black box that contains a computer program discovered by the Russians, that can break into all the computer programs in the world.

Here we have the old cliché about stopping the bad guys from having the power to take over the world. Redford is blackmailed into this gig because of an illegal college prank he never paid for. Now the movie gets all weak-kneed — even the girl selling popcorn in the lobby of the theater can tell that the guys that are supposed to be from the government agency are just another set of bad guys, so Redford and gang, who have successfully delivered the goods, have to get the box away from them.

This is an action flick that has a minimal amount of violence in it and also a minimal amount of strong language, ergo the PG13 rating, a fact that could prove to be quite refreshing for high tech excitement officianados of taste. Here's one that the kids will want to see and you can take them in good conscience for a change.

The story is fast moving, though a little farfetched. The ending, which strikes a funny chord at first, proves in afterthought to be ridiculous.

Aykroyd creates another one of his nerdy characters in "Mother" who believes "the same people that killed JFK also framed Pete Rose."

Poitier is a classy ex-CIA agent with a temper, Kingsley a rather stoic villain, Phoenix is cute and obviously there to draw the young crowd, and McDonnell, is a pretty and needed love interest for Redford.

David Strathairn, playing a blind but keenly aware member of Redford's gang, steals the show, especially in the scene where Redford talks him through a harrowing drive in dangerous territory.

We loved the players, but the play wasn't quite "the thing." We're giving "Sneakers" 3+ out of five stars.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Kickoff set for river trail

A ribbon-cutting ceremony and grand opening festivities will be held Sunday, Oct. 11 at Half Day Forest Preserve to celebrate a new, nine-mile section of the Lake County Forest Preserves' Des Plaines River Trail. The trail will eventually stretch 33 miles form Wisconsin to Cook County.

The public is invited to attend the ceremonies starting at 1 p.m. at Shelter A of the preserve, near Vernon Hills. The entrance is on Rte. 21 two miles south of Rte. 60. Participants may choose a two-mile or four-mile hike along the trail through the Des Plaines River Valley. Live music and refreshments will follow.

The trail stretches from Libertyville to Lincolnshire and will be open to hikers, runners, bicyclists, horse-back riders and cross-country skiers. A 10-mile section of the trail in northern Lake County has been open since 1989.

Patinkin gives enchanting one-man performance

Mandy Patinkin returned to his native Chicago with an enchanting one-man concert at the Shubert Theater. "Dress Casual," which runs through Sept. 26 is 90 minutes of musical wonderment.

Mandy Patinkin

Accompanied by pianist Paul Ford, Patinkin serves up a well-rounded program of Broadway show tunes, several old chestnuts and a few touching Yiddish songs from his childhood.

He's low key but with a commanding stage presence—and a voice filled with emotional power, whether he's doing a syrupy number from "Little Shop of Horrors" or belting out a "Puttin' on the Ritz."

His falsetto is particularly effective in some of the "Les Miserables" selections ("Bring Him Home").

For the most part, Patinkin skips the gimmicks and sticks to what he does best, singing one familiar song after another.—by TOM WITOM

Post vacation blues- how to handle them

by JIM WARNKEN
President, North Star Travel, Inc.

It's Monday morning and you're back to work. Only yesterday you were laying on the beach in Hawaii. You should feel relaxed, refreshed and ready to go back to work. Instead you feel sort of blah. You're not only tired, but unable to concentrate. It may be jetlag, but most likely you have a case of "post-vacation depression."

Post-vacation depression is brought on by both physical and psychological factors. Each must be understood and dealt with if we are to return to work with a clear mind. (Actually, I think we should all just remain on vacation, but I guess that's not practical.)

The physical factors which contribute to this depression are not, in most cases, the late nights of partying while on vacation, but just the opposite. Most people get more sleep than they normally get at home. They usually get more exercise. I know I find myself taking the car the two blocks to the post office at home, but I'll walk miles exploring a foreign city.

So why doesn't your body feel refreshed after all that good treatment? Your mind has told your body it's home again and get ready for that poor food, 12-hour work days and five hours of sleep!

The psychological factors are usually that you've had a chance to get away from your structured, predictable day and experience the uncertainty and excitement a vacation brings. Now it's back to the same old routine. What can you do to ease back into the work schedule?

Come back a day early. Read your mail, pay your bills, do laundry.

-Schedule at least one fun thing to do the week after your vacation.

-Continue the physical exercise you started on your vacation.

-Don't try to catch up on all your work the first day back. It will only heighten any depression.

If your depression lasts, turn it into something positive. Learn from what made you feel good on your vacation. Relax more. Get more exercise. Be more spontaneous. Eat better. Have more fun. We take a vacation to have fun; there is no reason we can't carry that into our work lives.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A lot is out of your control this week. Don't worry, though, because even if it doesn't look like it, partners do have matters well in hand. So when you finally DO get the explanations this weekend, you'll feel adored because of how it all went down.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Humor, my dear Bull, helps you deal with all the changes of the week. Your role as the stable, easygoing nurturer is definitely needed. A loved one falls in love with you all over again because of your superb control.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It'll be hard to put a halt to all the socializing you've been doing, but you need to concentrate on more serious matters. Expenses should be kept to a minimum, so watch your wallet. Use the weekend for some quiet reflection. You need to reassess your goals.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Most situations are rolling along exactly as you want, so enjoy your success. Be aware, though, by week's end, there may be a fly in the ointment. Take this in stride. Everything will work out well ultimately.

LEO (July 23-August 22) The beginning of the week finds you "paying for playing." However, by midweek, you're back in stride. Don't procrastinate with tasks at hand. They will only come back to haunt you.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) Now that all is once again harmonious on the home front, it may be a good time for you to consider a weekend getaway together. In fact, the upcoming weekend seems perfect. Make plans now.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) Since you've found how pleasant things can be when you're not being so stubborn, you'll be in a much more cooperative mood this week. Others pick up on this and flock to you, basking in your charisma. Enjoy the spotlight.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) Since a meeting of the minds has occurred between you and your mate, spend some time just enjoying each other's company. Romance is highly favored this week, so take advantage of it. The weekend is good for having friends over.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) It's time to roll up your sleeves and get to work on those tasks you've been putting aside for a while. Once they're done, and the week is over, you will feel energized and productive. Spend the weekend with relatives.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) It's a good time for you to start thinking about physical fitness. Adopt an exercise regimen you know you can stick to, and get to it. This is no time to sit around as pounds may add up.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) You often find yourself getting sidetracked by your socializing. However, you need to spend some time this week re-evaluating your goals. The important question for you is, can you continue to be Peter Pan?

PISCES (February 19-March 20) All is right in your little kingdom, so feel free to relax and enjoy. In order to do this, you need to stop being so intense. Work will still be there when you decide to buckle down once again. Children require extra attention.

Hispanic leader praises and enthuses CLC crowd

by LAURA IPPOLITO
Lakeland Newspapers

In celebration of National Hispanic Heritage Month, the College of Lake County invited Henry Cisneros, leading Hispanic political leader and former mayor of San Antonio to be its guest speaker.

Approximately 275 enthusiastic listeners, most of whom represented Lake County's growing Hispanic population, came to hear his message Sept. 21. The main theme of Cisneros' presentation was education and the competitive edge.

Whether or not the high-school drop-out rate could be changed, Cisneros said the strategy of our educational system should be child centered with public schools that work.

"We need school boards not willing to play politics, but to to take leadership roles in identifying standards of excellence in our public schools," he said.

He believed that parents should become re-involved with their children's education. A "cocoon of encouragement" needs to be provided, or we are "going to lose our kids," he added.

Students were advised to take an active role in their education, to learn a new language, to volunteer in their communities and to open their minds and hearts to the many good things society has to offer.

"We're a tremendous concentration of talent and population that will be converted into political and other types of power in the year to come," Cisneros said.

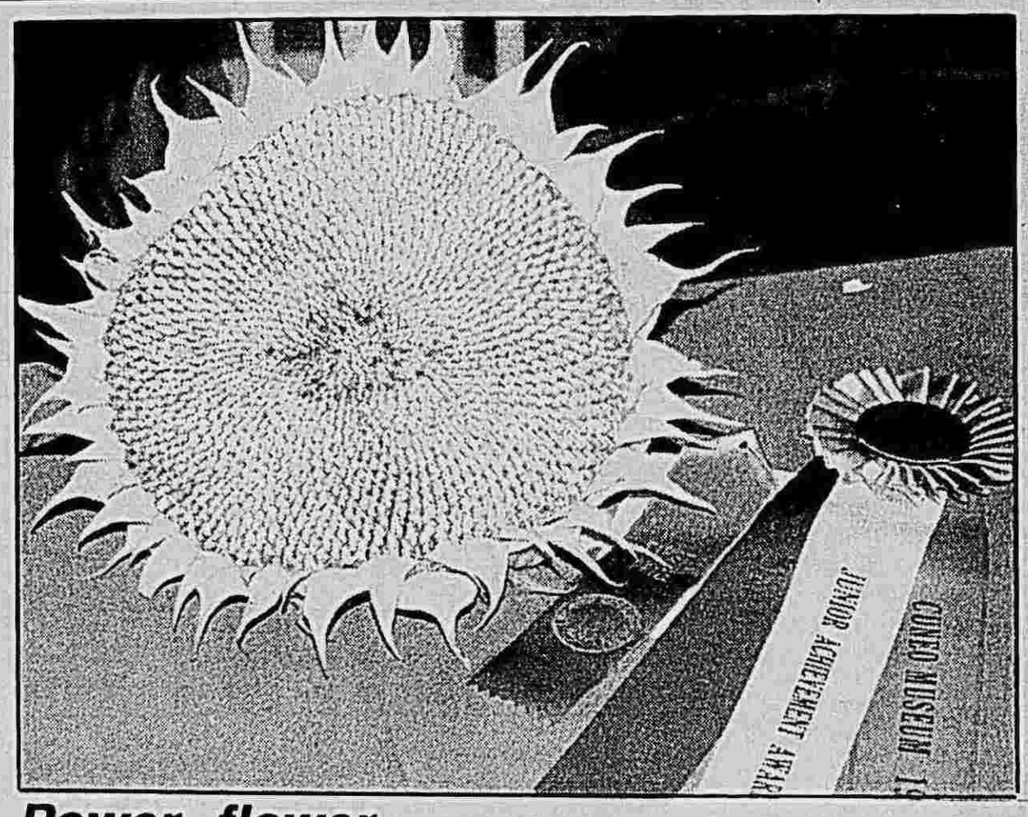

Cisneros lives what he preaches. He earned his bachelor's degree from Texas A & M University, his master's degree from Harvard University, and his doctorate of public administration from George Washington University.

He's been honored with numerous awards, interviewed by the Democratic presidential nominee committee as a potential vice presidential candidate in 1984, and is currently senior advisor to the Democratic party on the Gov. Bill Clinton campaign trail.

Cisneros is proud of his Hispanic and Indian heritage, proud to be of the same lineage as those important contributors and pioneers. One of the missions of our universities, he noted, should be to bring in the minority students because "diversity is essential to survival." He said the survival is not just for Hispanics, but for everyone because that will be the shape of the future for the United States.

He noted that once the Americas become more interlinked as a result of the free trade agreement and other trade relationships, American society will become an important part of this "dynamic process of Hispanization." It will not be a dominant Hispanic society, he said, but there will clearly be a Hispanic presence.

"Last year at a Chicago Cubs game," Cisneros said, "I'm told that hot dogs were outsold by nachos. Food is perhaps the best indicator that we've arrived!"

Power flower

Four-year-old Eric Shafer of Libertyville won a Junior Achievement award for this sunflower at the Garden Clubs of Illinois flower show last weekend. Shafer planted the sunflower as part of Libertyville Parks and Recreation Department's Arbor Day planting program. Harvest hoedown at Grayslake

An old time barn dance the "Harvest Hoedown" will begin at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 10 at the Park District Building, 42 S. Seymour, Grayslake.

This is the first in the current series of traditional barn dances presented by the Grayslake Community Park District. Barn dancing differs from modern "Mainstream" and "Plus" square dancing because there is always live music and the dances are traditional.

Years age, before movies, radio, television and videos, on any Saturday night the sound of fiddles and people having a good old time square dancing could be heard coming out of barns and meeting halls throughout Lake County.

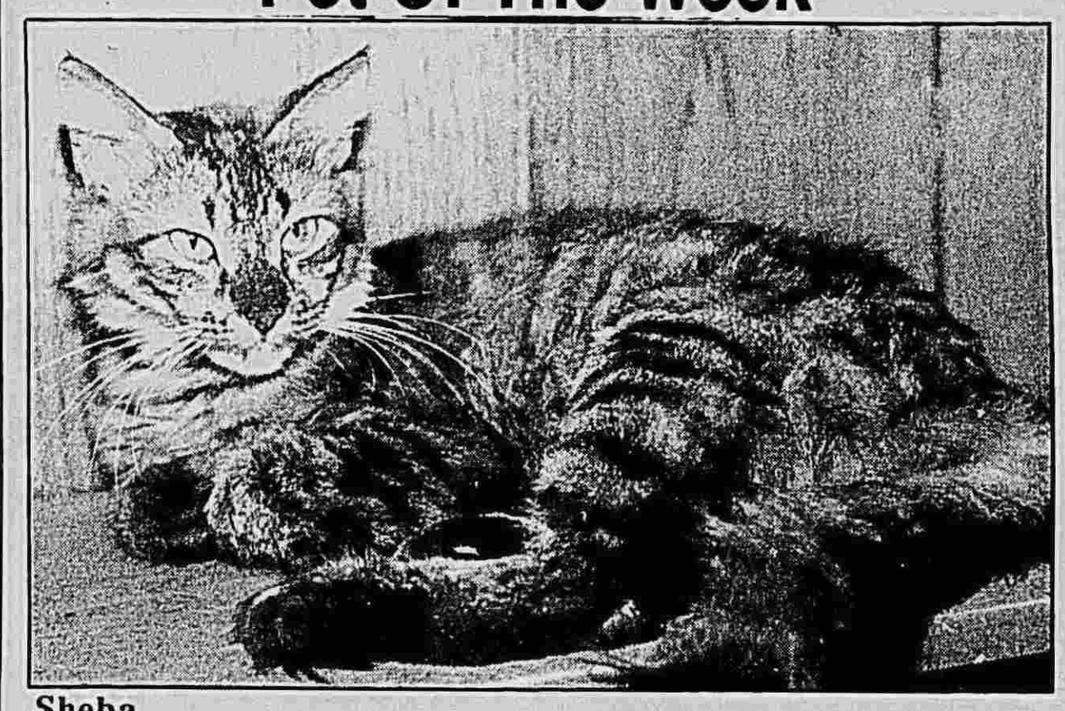

The Grayslake Park District has now revived this old time fun with their barn dance series with live music by Ron Brown on fiddle and his wife Sandy on guitar. The old time dances are called by "Uncle" Roy Reinholds. They will play old time tunes that have been danced to by Americans of yesteryear at grange halls, old barns and big city lodge halls and ballrooms.

All age groups, with or without partners or square dancing experience are invited to attend the barn dance. There will be free lessons before the dance at 7 p.m. Admission is $3 a person.

Dance schedule as follows: Harvest Hoedown, Oct. 10; Fall Barn Dance, Nov. 14; Yuletide Hoedown, Dec. 12; Midwinter Breakdown, Jan. 9; Valentine's Barn Dance, Feb. 13; Spring Hoedown, March 13; Last Chance Barn Dance, April 10.

For information call Uncle Roy at (708)223-2081.

Pet Of The Week

Sheba

An exotic little lady

Sheba is a dramatically striped, brown and cream cat with distinctive flashes of white and bright orange in her silky, semi-long coat. A proud plume tail and exotic almond green eyes combine to make Sheba a special little lady.

Just two-years-old, Sheba is an easy-going cat. While she wont' initially demand attention from a stranger, once she gets to know you, she will joyfully come running when you call to her, ever eager to delight in your attention and affection. Sheba has been in a foster home where she raised not only her own kittens, but two tiny orphaned babies too! Excellent with children, Sheba is anxious now to become a permanent part of a loving family. Collar F27.

Bubby Bear, a male silver and black purebred Elkhound, has been adopted.

For information on Pet of the Week adoptions call Orphans of the Storm, 2200 Riverwoods Rd., Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week. Call (708)945-0235 for details.

This Bag Could Save You $50 On Electricity.

Commonwealth Edison has put together these two Good Cents Kits to help you lower your energy bills. Each is filled with its own assortment of energy-saving items. To order yours, use the coupon at the bottom of the page. It'll be delivered right to your home.

Kit #1

Energy-Efficient Light Bulb.
About as bright as a 75 watt bulb, but over its life span, it can save you $50 on electricity.

Safety Plug Covers.

Weatherstripping.
Try it out on a window. It can prevent cold air from sneaking in, and warm air from sneaking out. So your furnace will run less. 17 feet.

Tote Bag.
Everything comes in this handy canvas tote. It's reusable, too.

Indoor Window Insulation Kit.
The kit comes with enough clear plastic to do an average size window. It's easy to install, and seals out almost all cold air. And that means you need less energy to keep warm.

Outlet Insulators.
Interior electrical outlets on the outside walls can let unwanted cold air in this winter. But these foam insulators can stop that, and make your home more energy-efficient.

Refrigerator Thermometer.
Slip this handy little temperature gauge into your refrigerator and you'll be able to find out if you're wasting electricity by keeping your fridge cooler than it needs to be.

101 Tips.
This handy guide is full of easy, inexpensive things you can do to use energy more efficiently, and lower your energy bills.

Plug-In Guide Light.

This Bag Could Save You Even More.

Kit #2

Automatic Timer.
Saves electricity by turning lamps and small appliances on and off automatically.

Two Energy-Efficient Bulbs.
Together, they can save you $100 on electricity over their life span.

101 Tips.
This handy guide is full of easy, inexpensive things you can do to use energy more efficiently, and lower your energy bills.

Refrigerator Thermometer.
Makes sure your refrigerator is set at the proper cooling level. So you don't waste electricity.

attend. Now, I don't think that the little 10 percent discount that seniors receive hurts anyone. I do not take advantage of this; I do not go out of my way to shop certain days, but if I happen to shop on a Wednesday and get the discount, it doesn't hurt. I don't understand why these narrow-minded little kids can think that they deserve something more. We went out and worked and worked hard. And, I give a big "hurrah" to that person who called in about "smell the roses." I highly agree with what that person said, too. Thanks for letting me get this off my chest.

How about follow ups?

I'm calling from Mundelein. I'd like to see some follow-up stories on your articles. For instance, what was the outcome of the legal action between Mike Stolzman in Lake Forest over the property in question? Who prevailed? If it wasn't Stolzman, is he making plans to move his business to Wisconsin, as you stated in your article? I'd like to know what is happening with some of these issues. You don't do much follow up, and I'd really like to see it. Thanks.

Wrongly accused

I want to complain about our Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council. I am a Girl Scout leader and have been wrongly accused of different things and have been asked to step down from my position. The sad part is, no one will listen to the truth. This is supposed to be for the little girls of America. Watch your step new leaders. Signed, Convicted.

Misleading developer

If anyone is thinking about buying a home by Hemphill, please look at the subdivision at the Estates of East Lake in Grayslake. I am a resident of that subdivision and we were told we were going to have a pristine lake, but it is nothing short of a mud hole. I invite you to come and see what the lake looks like. The builder has lied and I am sure he is lying at his other subdivisions in McHenry and Cary and anywhere else.

Sick of it

I just wanted to call and say I am tired of hearing these pro-lifers fight for the right to be born. How can they do this when a woman who is considering an abortion doesn't want the baby. Babies are hard enough to deal with, why would they even want the baby born to someone who doesn't want it? The Department of Children and Family Services is already overloaded. There are people using babies as shields in drive-by shootings, people locking people them in closets. It's child abuse. Is that fair to the child to be born into this. Where are these pro-lifers now, fighting for the right to life. Don't these children have a life after they are born? Or do these pro-lifers only care up until the baby is born?

Misleading ads

I'm calling from Fox Lake. I resent the fact that business people are allowed to put ads in a paper that are untrue. One restaurant in in Fox Lake said in an ad that he is the only broasted chicken dealer in town. In fact, there are probably three or four other restaurants that sell broasted chicken. And there is a grocery store that sells broasted chicken. And I think that the newspaper should not allow someone someone to print an untruth when they are making ads just to get the money.

Cable scam, round two

I'm calling regarding Lipservice and the article called TCI Cable is a Scam. I used to live in Wauconda Township and we just moved to Palatine Township. When we lived in Wauconda, we had Jones Intercable, and now we have Continental Cablevision. Regarding the cable, I think it is very overpriced. I know a lot of people have told me, and I agree, that if we could better antennas on our roof, we would in a second. We live in an apartment building, and we can't do anything about the antennae in the building — so we have cable. If we had my own home, my husband would get up there and put up and antenna and wouldn't give any of those cable companies a dime of my money. Sure, it's a nice service to have. But they put a couple of good movies on a month, and the rest are repeats. I feel the price is exorbitant. I remember several years ago when my father first got cable in Wauconda. It was $9 per month. Now it's $21 per month. Every year, there isn't anything extra in return for their increases. The cable does go out quite a bit. If there's a rain storm, the cable is out for hours. How come we don't get discount for every time cable goes out and we go without television. I think all these people, if they are unhappy with cable, we should boycott the cable. Maybe then they would do something. It's because we all sit here silently, and tolerate this garbage, that they can continue raising the prices. Most towns have only one cable company to go with. I haven't been pleased with any of the cable companies yet. I think we should boycott these companies until we get what we want. They're not doing us a big favor; we're doing them a favor. And their making a lot of money of the middle-class, hardworking person.

It's in, this time

First of all, I believe Lipservice is being targeted in Antioch and Round Lake area. I've called several times about Gurnee, but we don't see anything in Lipservice about Gurnee. Secondly, a comment on the person who is in this week's Lipservice, Get to the Root of It. Sorry, folks, $45,000 for a school teacher does not require a Master's degree and it doesn't require all kinds of work at home. Let's face it, you guys (teachers) have got the best. The best, the very best hype program in the country. Teachers in Gurnee and Waukegan are getting $50,000 and up, unless they are first or second year teachers who haven't made tenure yet. You guys are really crying on the wrong shoulder.

$45,000 out of line

I'm replying to the Lipservice article $45,000 Isn't Much. Give me a break. You guys are getting paid too much as it is right now. How can you possibly say that you work so hard, put in so many hours, and get paid so little, when the product of your supposed work and underpayment are students who graduate from high school who cannot read or even do simple mathematics. Until you guys can graduate students who can read and do math, I don't think you are getting paid too little — you're getting paid too much.

Ego is the problem

As far as I can see, the only reason Round Lake won't

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search, I interviewed for a job last month that was supposed to start after Labor Day. Last Friday the company called my house throughout the day leaving messages informing me that I was to start the job the next day. While I did receive those messages, I did not respond due to the fact that I had already made plans with friends for Saturday. I figured the company would think that I hadn't gotten the message, they would understand. The following Monday I called the company to find out when I could start the job and they told me that when they didn't hear from me they decided to fill the job with someone else who started today. I had been waiting for 3 weeks for this job and it was important to me. I feel they should have given me a chance. What can I do? C.K. - Waukegan

A: Dear C.K. Look for another job! After reading your letter as to how important this job was to you, makes me question where your priorities were. Friends are great but don't sign your paychecks. I could understand your questioning this, if in fact you had not received the messages that this company needed you to start the next day. However, to admit to me that you deliberately blew off the starting day makes me further question your not understanding why the job has been given to someone who showed up to work when asked.

Q: Dear...Search, Where can I go to get a resume done for myself for a reasonable cost? I just graduated from college and I am finding that there are services out there that are charging more than I can afford. W.G. - Lake Villa

A: Dear W.G. The local library has several books on how to write a resume. Find a format that works well for you and gear it towards your information. Any quick printing shop will print your information on good stock paper and you're ready to go. Of course this doesn't work for every one. The more in depth and technical your information is, the more important it is for you to have a professional resume writer handle the task. If you feel this is the way you want to go, you can call me for a list of services out there. Don't forget to proofread your work.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee.
Letters can be sent to Nancy c/o Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, IL 60030

TIPS ON— HOW TO WRITE A CLASSIFIED AD THAT SELLS

REFRIGERATOR/FREEZER, General Electric, 19 cu. ft., three years old, gold, automatic ice maker, automatic defrost, like-new condition. $400 or best offer! Moving, must sell immediately. Call Saturday between 8AM and 9PM. 000-0000

1. Use a KEYWORD. This immediately tells the reader exactly what it is you have to sell.
2. Make your description CLEAR and PRACTICAL. State the year, make, model, color, size, and tell what condition the item is. Also state the special features.
3. State the PRICE. Successful Classified advertisers have learned that the price in an ad helps increase the chances for results.
4. If there's a genuine sense of URGENCY, say so. The words, "We're Moving" or "Must Sell Fast" suggests that readers respond immediately.
5. Include your PHONE NUMBER. Classifieds get results fast and often generate immediate sales. If you cannot be available to answer the phone at all times, be sure to specify special calling times such as "after 6 PM" or "Before 11 AM".

If you need assistance ask one of our friendly AD-VISORS to help you word your ad.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL COMMISSIONER'S SALE
OUR FILE NO. 23925
(IT IS ADVISED THAT INTERESTED PARTIES CONSULT THEIR OWN ATTORNEYS BEFORE BIDDING AT FORECLOSURE SALES)

Public Notice is hereby given pursuant to a Judgement entered in the above entitled cause on June 12, 1992.

I, Alan Mills, Special commissioner for this court will on November 4, 1992 at the hour of 1:30 p.m. at the front door of the Lake County Courthouse, 18 N. County Street, Waukegan, Illinois, sell to the highest bidder for cash, the following described premises:

27851 W. Grass Lake Rd., Antioch, IL 60002

The improvements on the property consists of a single family, wood frame, one story without a garage.

Sale Terms: 10% down by certified funds, balance within 24 hours, certified funds. No refunds. The sale shall be subject to general taxes and to special assessments.

The property will NOT be open for inspection.

The judgment amount was $63,976.57.

Upon the sale being made the purchaser will receive a Certificate of sale which will entitle the purchaser to a deed on a specified date unless the property is redeemed according to law, subject to the Court's approval.

For information call the Sales Officer at Plaintiff's Attorney, Fisher and Fisher, 30 North LaSalle, Chicago, Illinois. (312) 372-4784 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m., however under Illinois law, the Sales Officer is not required to provide additional information other than that set forth in this notice.

All of the rear-facing living areas in the Deerhorn – eating nook, great room and master suite -- are richly windowed. In fact, glass fills nearly twice the space as walls.

Consequently, these rooms are exceptionally bright and offer a panoramic view of the natural environment, be it riverbank, lake, ocean, canyon, or lovingly landscaped yard.

Breakfasting in the sunny haft-octagonal nook adds yet another dimension. Lingering over mugs of coffee, you can enjoy vistas in three directions. And yet another large window is in front of the sink.

The huge central living area could be outfitted as a family room, or sectioned off as dining room and living room, depending on family preference. Behind the pellet-burning woodstove, which is seated on a large hearth, the clipped corner is lined with brick which holds and radiates heat long after fires have turned to ash.

Abundant counter and cupboard space wraps around four sides of the large country kitchen. The counter that separates the kitchen from the nook serves as a buffet, when needed, and could be outfitted as an eating bar. Potted plants flourish in the narrow garden window.

A small step-in pantry is located in the passageway to the two-car garage, across the hall from a comfortably large utility room with ample counter space for folding clothes. If the Deerhorn is built over a basement, stairs would go here, between the pantry and the garage. If not, this space could house a broom closet or expanded pantry.

Storage space lines the hallway to the bedrooms, all located at the left end of the home. A bay window adds elegance to the master suite, which has a walk-in closet, oversized shower, and a second vanity in the dressing area. The other two bedrooms share a bathroom with combined tub and shower.

Odd angles are another interesting feature of the Deerhorn. Only the utility room is totally rectangular.

For a study plan of the DEERHORN (402-05), send $7.50 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Working overtime proves rewarding for Wildcats

by STEVE PETERSON

Jim Moras was lying on the grass at Libertyville High School, possibly taking in what had just happened.

Moras made only his second pass reception of the day the most important to date as the 11-yard strike from Andrew Robertson gave the home team a thrilling 21-20 overtime win,

"We were running the 'window'. It worked all year but we did not run it much during the game. They tried to contain us man-for-man, a guy threw an inside comeback I just read my fake and I was wide open in the corner of the end zone. It was a perfect pass. There was no one around me," Moras, a junior, said.

Zion's Eddie McKennie had given the visitors a 20-14 lead as Zion took possession to start the season's first overtime game. The extra point try was missed, opening it just enough for Moras's window.

Libertyville keeps pace with Lake Forest with the win at 3-0. Zion slips to 2-1. Libertyville hosts winless Fenton in a Homecoming game Sept. 26 at 1 p.m.

Zion had the upper hand in the speed department as the Zee-Bees feature the likes of James Villalobos catching passes from Jon Angelopulos, the running of Bryant Cooper and, of course, Eddie McKennie.

But it was Libertyville who came up with the turnovers, a fumble recovery by Todd Gierthy who was named player-of-the-game, two pass interceptions by Bob Paulson, one stopping a Zion drive.

"We gave up a few insignificant plays, but no major plays, which we feel is outstanding. To contain an explosive backfield like that is a great challenge," Libertyville Coach Dale Christensen said.

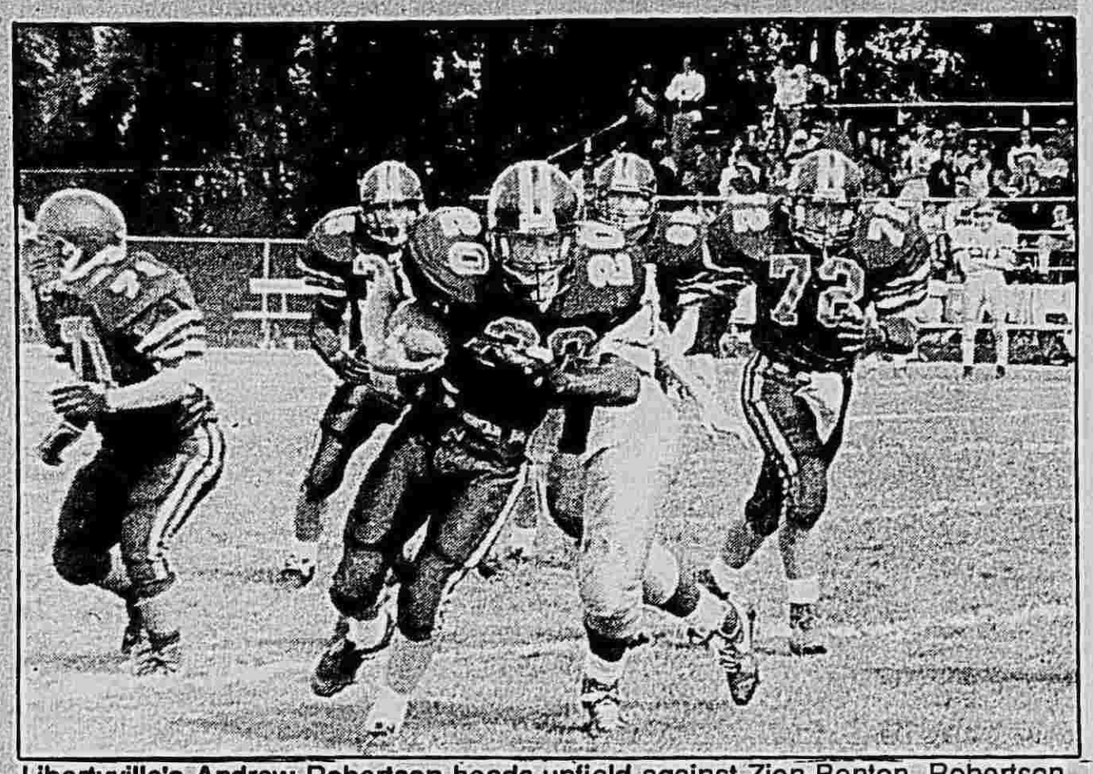

Gierthy, a junior, is no stranger to varsity football, having been brought up as a sophomore.

"All you can do, is you can't key on him (McKinney). Our big emphasis was the team concept. One of the best analogies came from Scripture where Christ said, all parts of the body function together. This was our concentration. Every individual just has to play his position and be part of the body. If the body is not truly sound, then you will give it up, They lived up to our philosophical approach," Christensen said.

Robertson continued to be Mr. Versatility for the Wildcats. He started at quarterback, regained those duties when Ethan Wall was hurt in the first half, and threw for two touchdown passes. He missed a chance to end the game in the fourth quarter on a missed 32-yard field goal try. "He tried to force it a little bit. You just have to relax and hit the ball," Carlson said.

After Zion tied it up 7-7 with a third-quarter score, Robertson entertained the LHS crowd by scooting free on an option off to a 66-yard toucndown run.

Senior Mark Richardson caught key fourth-quarter passes. "Mark made some extraordinary catches," the coach said. "It was a super job, both sides of the ball," Christensen said.

Carmel shows character in dominating second half

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Carmel High's football team found itself in a new situation at halftime against St. Viator.

The Corsairs were tied with the Lions 7-7 in the first East Suburban Catholic Conference game of the year. The Corsairs responded with two second-half running touchdown runs for a 20-7 win, keeping the unbeaten string at three.

"We played very well early and very, very well in the third and fourth quarters. It was 7-7 and we were able to show we are a team with character," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

The offense topped the 200-yard mark again, but it was the defense that shined in Arlington Heights. The Corsairs held St. Viator's leading rusher, Matt Lannes, to 64 yards in 18 carries. "He is a great running back. He had had six touchdowns and 100-yard games. Our defensive coordinator, Andy Bito, decided we should just play regular, tough Carmel defensive football," Fitzgibbons said.

Senior Dan Medina leads the defense through three games with 36 solo or assist tackles. Charles Burgoon has 19, Pat Potempa 16 and Steve Zuiker 13.

Senior defensive end Jeff Schutz sacked Lions quarterback Brian Kopp and came up with a fumble recovery, setting up Carmel scores. Rob Hilty had the key hit which forced the fumble.

Carmel, which hosts St. Joseph Sept. 25 in a 7:30 p.m., start, once again showed its three-back offense. Jermaine Williams had an eight-yard TD run in the first quarter, but that was offset by a nine-yard pass from Brian Koop to Mike Jones for a St. Viator score.

Jamil Swift scored on a 12-yard run in the third quarter. Game-leading ground gainer J.D. Clark (98 yards) capped off the scoring with a 10-yard TD in the fourth quarter.

"St. Joeseph has a diversified offense. We'll need another good week of practice. I always tell the kids games are not won on Friday nights, but during the week," Fitzgibbons said.

Defense retakes spotlight in a big way for Wildcats

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Libertyville High's football coaching staff will be the first to admit it.

When it came to playing tough defense in 1991, there was the limit of one good half, please. Defense is back with renewed spirit this year as the Wildcats take a 3-0 record into the Sept. 26 Homecoming game against Fenton.

Overtime

"Everyone knows to win championships, you have to have defense. If you don't have a good defensive club, you will not win the championships. We pride ourselves on that," Libertyville Coach Dale Christensen said.

Leading the way was Dave Kosowski a guard with a tackle and 10 assists; Bob Paulson had two interceptions and was given a player-of-the-game honor and Todd Gierthy had three solo and eight assists.

"We implemented what we sought was a real sound game plan and the boys carried it out," Christensen said.

"We knew they were capable of exploding, just a matter of time before it was going to happen. The second drive we helped them out with two 15-yard penalties. You can't do that, they can score from anywhere on the field."

Senior guard Dave Kosowski turned in a strong performance as did Paulson and Gierthy.

"He has the potential to be a great ballplayer. The thing that impressed us today about him was he kept his head and helped to be a leader," Kuceteski said of Kosowski.

"We have a group of guys who are very good hitters and can swing momentum away from an offense," he said.

Meanwhile on offense, the Wildcats did not lose a beat when Andrew Robertson replaced injured Ethan Wall at quarterback.

"We practice more than one quarterback all the time. We sometimes vary what offense we give each one, but we practice to or three quarterbacks all the time," offensive coordinator Karl Jennrich said.

The LHS staff knew that Robertson was not about to come out of the game despite a first-half bell-ringing. "He is a very tough competitor. He would have to be hurt pretty bad to take himself out. He is working very hard (on the offense) and is progressing faster than we anticipated," Jennrich said.

Thirty-eight special: Mundelein, after surrendering 38 points last week, faces the Stevenson offense which produced 38 points last week.

Carmel leads this week's rankings as well as the Corsairs started East Suburban Catholic Conference play with a 20-7 win. Libertyville, with the overtime 21-20 win over Zion-Benton is next followed by Randy Brill-led Wauconda to a 31-0 win over Montini. That was not the most points scored last week. That honor goes to fourth-ranked Stevenson, 38-13 winners over Antioch (with a 31-point second quarter). Warren (2-1) holds down the fifth spot.

Bulldogs set to outshoot similar attack by Wave

They say you can't fool Mother Nature, but the Wauconda Bulldogs worked the best they could with what was dealt them.

"The field was muddy, there was standing water, so we decided to run the ball more," Wauconda Coach Bob Kasper said following a 31-0 whitewash of Montini.

The Bulldogs' (3-0) Randy Brill did not let the muck nor the Montini defense slow him, as he rushed for 208 yards and had touchdown runs of 60 and 40 yards.

"Brill had an outstanding game and our offensive line had some big blocks," Kasper said. Ben Seelye, a five-foot, 10 inch 210 pound tackle, Dan Ritchie, 6-0, 220 pound center and Nate Bowers, 6-1, 230 tackle, showed the way. "They all played last year. That should be one of our strengths," Kasper said.

Wauconda plays at Elgin St. Edward Sept. 26. The 1 p.m. battle will pit two run-and-shoot offenses. Wauconda will be seeking revenge for a 1991 loss to the Green Wave.

The Bulldogs could manage just a 33 yard field goal by Byron Johnson in the first half. "We really played well the second half. We had kids rise to the occasion. That's the mark of a championship football team," Kasper said.

The momentum swung Wauconda's way immediately after the opening kickoff, as Brill burst into the Montini secondary for his 60-yard touchdown. Key blocks came from Chris Merkner and Bowers.

Brill tallied on a one-yard run in the third quarter to up the anty to 21-3.

Johnson, who was four-for-14 for 147 yards passing, connected with Chris Pfeffer on a 10-yard toss in the fourth quarter and Brill capped the scoring with a 40-yard jaunt.

Stahoviak set to impress at instructional league

Scott Stahoviak was sitting back in the family's Grayslake townhome this rainy afternoon, relaxing as he watched the Cubs down the Phillies in a meaningless late-season baseball game.

The Carmel High School and Creighton University standout won't have much time for leisure though, as he reported for instructional camp play this week in Florida.

ON DECK
by Steve Peterson

Stahoviak completed his first full season in Class A Visalia Oaks, hitting .308 with five homers and 25 doubles for the Minnesota Twins-affiliated team.

"We lost three game to one to Stockton in the championship series of the California League. We steadily improved and had the third best record in the league in the second half," Stahoviak said.

Stahoviak played third base for the Vasilia Oaks this season, a new challenge for him. "I could make the diving plays, but I had trouble with the fundamental ones. The Twins' roving defensive coach, Glenn Adams, helped me out," he said.

While there were some anxious moments around the Stahoviak home in Grayslake last year, the six-foot-five inch 210 pounder felt good about a chance in the minors. "The Twins had drafted me out of high school and had seen me play a lot," he said.

His baseball career started long before his days as a Blue Jay at Creighton, or, for that matter, a Woodland Indian.

"I started to roll a ball to him when he was two-and-one half years old," Ed Stahoviak said.

Stahoviak, a pitcher until his minor league start, often chats with fellow Quail Creek subdivision resident, former Carmel Coach Joe Pudlo.

While the desire is there to make the "big time," life in the minors is not glamorous. "Last year I got my feet wet with the lifestyle. You end up watching a lot of T.V. and eating fast food," Stahoviak said. "You go to the park about 3 to 4 p.m. and you are there until 10 or 10:30 a.m," Stahoviak said.

In 43 games last year, Stahoviak hit .273 with one home run and nine doubles.

Stahoviak's address will be different next year as the Twins are moving both their "high" Class A affiliate and AA affiliate, Orlando is moving to North Carolina or Tennessee.

"Orlando had the toughest traveling of any team in the Southern League. They had to make 10-hour bus trips," Stahoviak said.

Grayslake netters gaining respect, loop title hopes

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Grayslake's Becki Ziolet knew she was not in a good situation against Johnsburg's Keri Klontz.

She trailed the Johnsburg number one singles player 3-0 in the first set of the Northwest Suburban Conference match. But the junior rallied for a 6-4, 6-3 win as the Rams shutout the Skyhawks 5-0 for their fourth win in as many league matches.

"I just did not let that get me down," Ziolet, a junior, said.

Ziolet played second singles as a sophomore on the varsity last year as the Rams went 10-10.

Any adjustments from second to first singles? "I put pressure on myself because everyone looks up to me. This will be a good year because we have a lot more competitive team," Ziolet said.

Ziolet has also found success in doubles. She teamed up with Heather Phillips to down Warren 6-2, 6-4 in one of two non-conference losses for Grayslake.

Grayslake faced a key conference test when it battled Round Lake Sept. 24. The Rams are at the McHenry Invitational Sept. 26.

In doubles action against Johnsburg, Kristin Brulley, a junior and Julie Bartinck, a senior, won 6-0, 6-0 over Julie Kotiw and Megan Ferrell.

"They have played well the last two matches," Olson said.

Phillips, a junior, and Besse Torres, a sophomore, dominated Johnsburg's Margie Hannski and Nicole Mincow 6-1, 6-1.

The best chance for the Skyhawks to win cane at second singles. Johnsburg junior Emily Smith downed Mandy Leubke in the first set 6-3. The second set was a struggle for both as it went to a tiebreak with Leubke winning 5-2. Leubke won the third set handily, 6-0.

"I knew whoever would wil the tiebreak would win the match," Olson said.

The season has been a struggle for Johnsburg, with only a 4-1 win over Grant to show for the first five dual matches.

"The whole team is playing better tennis and the kids have been working real hard. This will be a rebuilding year for us, hopefully we will be respectable next year," Johnsburg Coach Rick Bailey said.

Grant-Johnsburg tennis clash hot for one family

When Johnsburg and Grant clash in Northwest Suburban Conference tennis action, Grant Coach Larry Garlanger of course wants his Bulldogs to to their best in a struggling year.

But secretly, he may have an eye toward the third singles match. While pulling for his player, Garlanger may also be pleased if the Johnsburg player has a good match. For the Johnsburg player is none of than Garlanger's daughter, Amy.

"I don't mind, in fact, I've coached three of their players: Erica Smith, who moved up from third to second singles and doubles player Megan Ferrell," Coach Garlanger said.

Garlanger has been pleased with his daughter's progress for an equally young Johnsburg team, although she does need work on her serves, she said.

"About half of their team participated in our camp," Coach Garlanger said.

The Garlanger Battle II gets underway at 4:30 p.m. Sept. 28.

Daughter's team won round one over Dad 4-1, as Grant has lost its first five dual meets. Grant did manage two wins in a non-conference loss to Antioch.

Tisah Sahaso, sister of ex-Grant star Somali, now a team tennis player at the University of Illinois, won over Jenny Allen 6-1, 4-6, 6-2.

The fourth doubles team of juniors Kelly Grant and Kelly Shelley won 6-2, 6-2 over Jamie Dabis and Kim Patchok.

Antioch's Regina Robless topped Renee Jensen 6-3, 6-4. Kim Griffin and Melissa Maletano fell at first doubles to Charlotte Berger and Karen Anderson 6-2, 6-0.

Antioch's Kristin Pederson beat one of Grant's few seniors, Karen Owens. Carrie Dahl and Sandi Erdman of Antioch won in straight sets at third doubles.

Mall's return strengthens Stevenson spikers' hopes

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Stevenson volleyball coach Bob Schenk has had a hard time convincing people his team is in a rebuilding season.

After all, Mundelein achieved somewhat of a moral victory when it beat the Pats in the middle game of a three-game match. But just think of Stevenson with even more weapons.

The Patriots come up with what they think will be a major one as Danielle Mall joined the team just in time for the Stevenson tournament. The Pats won their own tourney by winning five two-game matches.

Mall was on the Stevenson team which qualified for the Elite Eight for the second straight year in 1991. But the track and basketball standout had not planned on playing volleyball this fall.

"I gave her an opportunity to participate as long as she came out last week. We see her as a vert valuable asset to our team," Schenk said.

Schenk said the junior is remembering the Stevenson system just fine as a five-foot, 11 inch outside hitter.

"Mall learned the game as a sophomore, but her playing time was limited because of the talented seniors we had,' Schenk said.

Mall qualified for the state track and field meet last year.

Mall's comeback to the Stevenson lineup is just in time for some tough North Suburban Conference assignments for the 16-0 team. After a match at North Chicago Sept. 25, Libertyville looms Sept. 30. The Wildcats have won nine of their first 10 matches and are coming off a Prospect tournament championship.

Stevenson placed three players on the all-tournament team: Anna Hamilton, Jessica Goulding and Tiffany DeBolt. Antioch, 4-1 and in second place, placed Corey Todd and Kim Worsing.

Stevenson opened the tourney with a 15-4, 15-5 win over McHenry; topped Elk Grove 15-10, 15-6; Antioch 15-10, 15-4; Cary-Grove 15-10, 15-5 and Joliet Central 15-8, 15-4.

Hamilton had 35 points in serving with 15 aces; Goulding 26 points and five aces; DeBolt was next at 26 points and six aces.

In setting, De Bolt had 37 assists and Hamilton 32. Goulding led the attack with 29 kills.

RL braces for another Class 3A powerhouse

Round Lake High School has a quarterback derby.

Junior Bob Swanson played the second half of a 32-22 loss to Driscoll Catholic, sparking a comeback which saw the Panthers eliminate 17 points of a 22 point deficit.

"Competition for a position is always good," Round Lake Coach Mike Dunn said.

Senior quarterback Clint Rodriquez will be battling to get his starting role back as the Panthers prepare for a Sept. 26 test at Immaculate Conception.

"Swanson really lit a fire under us. That was one of the best halves in 25 years of high school football. We put ourselves in a position to win," Dunn said.

IC comes into the game unbeaten while Round Lake is a very unfamiliar 0-3. The state-ranked Class 3A power knocked off Johnsburg 20-7.

Driscoll, the Class 3A state champs last year, scored 19 second quarter points before Round Lake's leading rusher, Luke Tesch, scored the first of two touchdowns with a two-yard run. Swanson added the two-point conversion.

Tesch capped off another drive with a four-yard run.

Vinnie Lira electrified the Round Lake faithful with a 60-yard punt return for a score. That brought the home team to within 26-22, but that was as close as they would get.

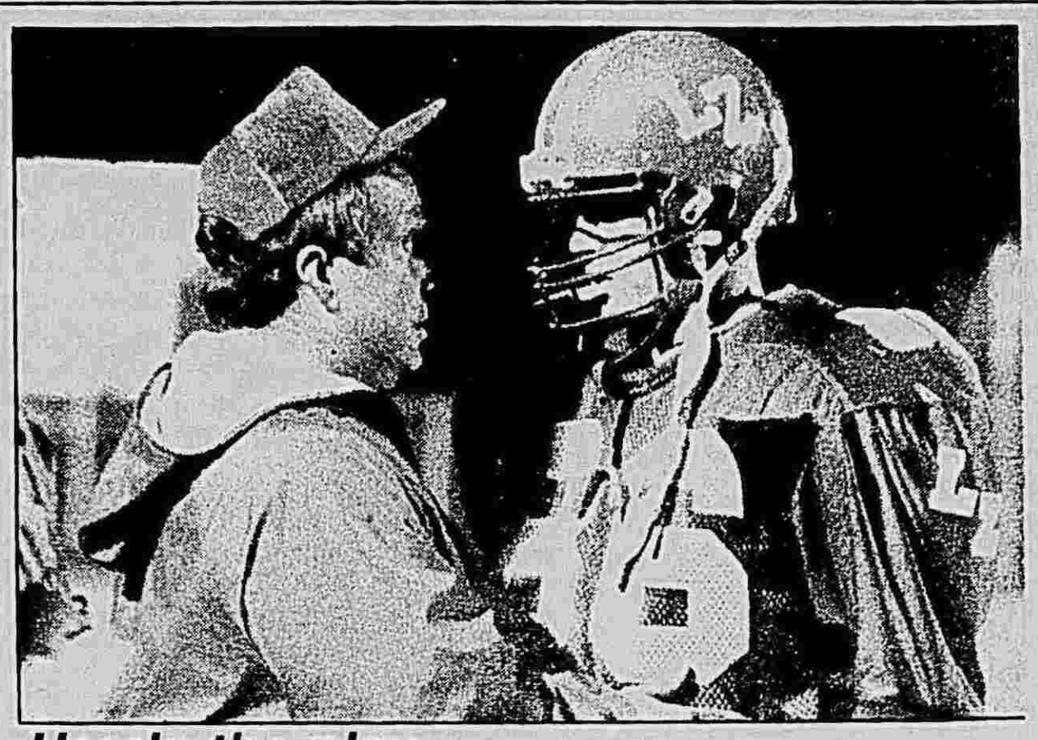

The Panthers tried to go for an on-side kick but Driscoll recovered it. "We practiced it, we wanted to get the ball back," Dunn said.

Schroeder's skills show in AU opener

Wauconda High School graduate Nate Schroeder has made an impact in the season opener at Augustana College.

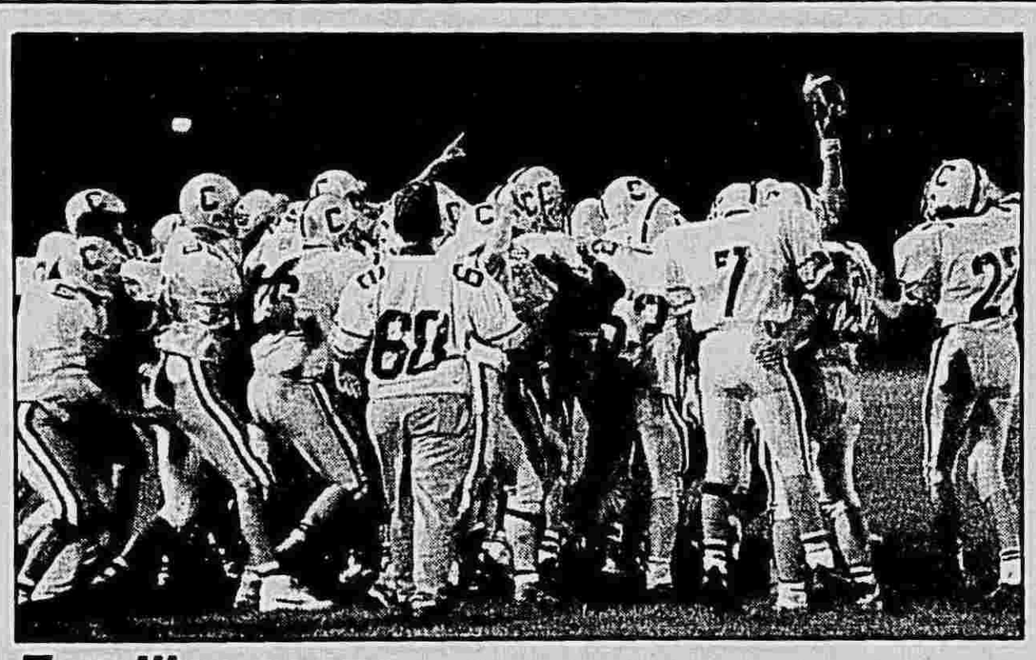

Schroeder, six-foot, 230 pounds, started at defensive tackle. He had two solo tackles, four assists, one quarterback sack, one tackle for loss and one deflection.

Augustana fell to Loras 10-7. Augustana hosts North Park Oct. 3 at 1:30 p.m.

Carver shows diversified skills as kickers start 5-0

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

College of Lake County men's soccer Coach Dave Beck knew some adjustments would likely have to be made as star Joe Carver entered his sophomore season.

"Joe is just Joe. He never ceases to amaze me. When we need the goals, he comes through. He is normally double-marked because everyone knows who he is. He has great ballskills.

"He is playing other parts of the game. He is setting up teammates, playing good defense, and doing those kinds of things," Beck said.

Carver helped the Lancers stay perfect at 5-0 Tuesday as they downed Harper 4-2. He scored three goals and assisted on one by Ian Chapman.

Carver overcame an ankle injury as the former Deerfield standout got ready for his second CLC season.

Carver's game-winning score came on a header in which he caught the Hawks' defense off guard. "I was actually unmarked for some reason. It was thrown to my head and the keeper came up to challenge and I shot it over him," Carver said.

Although off to a strong start with a southern Illinois tournament against Johnwood and Springfield College next, Carver cautioned his teammates.

"I don't think we should get too cocky just because we won five matches. This was the first quality team we played. I hope to make it through the season with a winning record and towards the end of the season see what happens," Carver said.

Carver, who burst onto the soccer scene last year, knows scoring is not the only factor. "Defense is what does it for us. The second half, they only had a few shots on goal," Beck said.

Harper's Matt Hunsicker broke the shutout string of CLC goalies Jeremy Dozier and Chris Capre, scoring twice. Harper, although a first-year program, led 2-1 before a Carver goal sent the home team ahead at halftime.

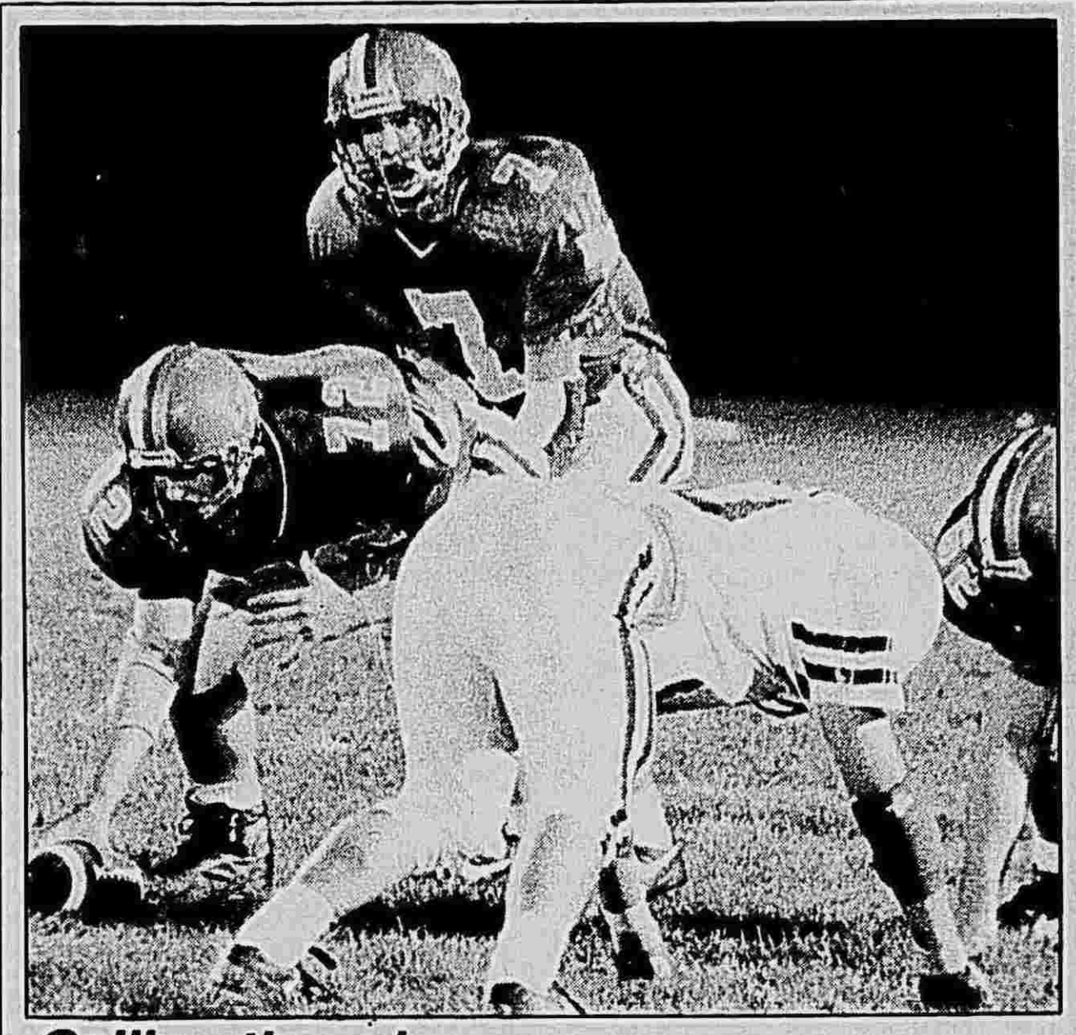

"That took the monkey off their backs as far as the shutout. They can relax. I saw them relax in the second half," Beck said.

"With these guys, they are certainly capable of 5-0, but we certainly did not play to start that way this afternoon. We started out slow and Harper has a good program. This is their first year and what they have done so far is really amazing. We tried to play the wings more in the second half. In the first half, we were trying to punch the ball in the middle. In the second half, we tried to play the outside and that opened up the middle," Beck said.

Mike Guglielmo scored three goals in a 7-0 win over Bethany Lutheran.

Chapman led the Lancers with three goals in a 6-0 win over Waubonsee. Carver had a goal and an assist.

Helping preserve the shutout were: Joe Braido, Omar Pacheco, Charlie Mulnix, Mike Tulley and Dan Hendrichs. Braido was named CLC athlete-of-the-week.

Antioch, Warren looking to recover from defeats

After having watched his offense score 74 points in the last two games, one might suspect Stevenson Coach Bill Mitz to be on cloud nine.

Instead, he prefers to take a more down-to-Earth approach to his Patriots and their 2-1, 2-0 North Suburban Conference record. Stevenson is at winless Mundelein Sept. 26 at 1 p.m.

"Our defense must be a lot more physical. We have to get better and better each week," Mitz said about a 38-13 pasting of Antioch.

Stevenson spotted Antioch a 7-0 lead on a one-yard run by Mike Stephenson. But like the proverbial pool shark, the Pats had their unsuspecting opponent right where they wanted them. Some 31 second-quarter points later and this game in Lincolnshire was history.

"We were never seemed to be able to stop their counter. All three of their backs were effective," Antioch Coach Del Pechauer said.

Stephenson's touchdown was the highlight for the winless Antioch club. Stephenson, a junior, did not gain a starting berth for the season opener, but came in during the Lake Forest game after Rick Luckhardt was injured. He finished with 66 yards in eight carries, including a 36 yarder.

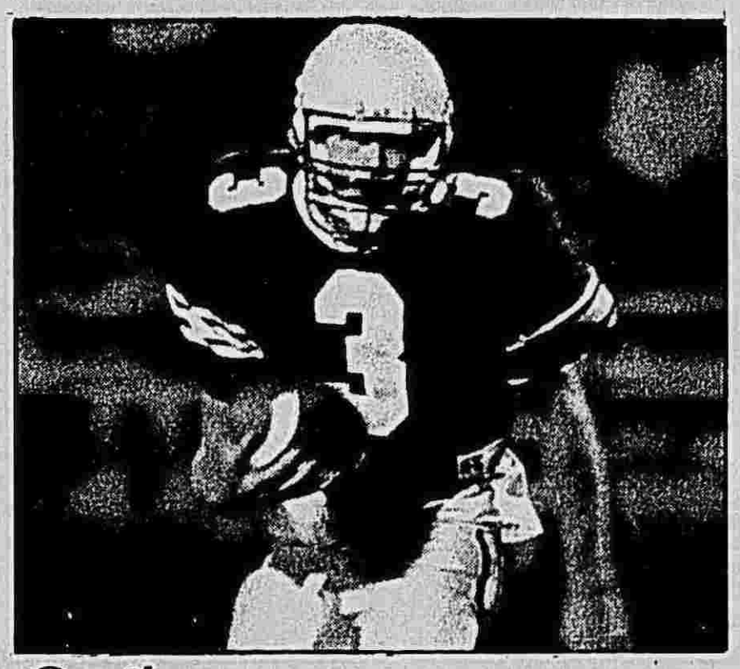

Eric Newcomb was a bright spot, with 110 yards. But that was just consolation for the Sequoits, who found themselves outmanned by the likes of running back Jason Cato, Gus Steger, Faraji Leary and Fred Dasso.

Antioch claimed the 7-0 lead until the opening ticks of the second quarter, when Cato scored from four yards out and Leary ran in for two. Cato also had a one-yard TD run.

Fred Dasso, who played the season opener at quarterback, then caught a 21-yard pass from Nate Smith and Gus Steger did the two-point honors.

Leary showed his open-field running ability with a 75-yard TD scamper.

Antioch may be winless, but there is always enough motoviation for the next foe, Warren at home Sept. 26 at 1 p.m. Antioch handed Warren its only regular-season loss last year, with a 13-12 thriller.

On the run

Panthers set hoops clinic

Just in time for basketball tryouts, Round Lake High Coach Bob Ward will be offering a three-day camp.

Cost for the Sept. 28-30 camp at the high school for seventh and eighth-graders will be $5. Camp will be held from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Some 104 basketball players participated in drills, scrimmages and fun last year.

Camp is held a week before junior high basketball tryouts in Round Lake.

Knights gain playoff spot

They may not be jumping in the streets of Ivanhoe, the Lake County Knights home, but there were certainly smiles on the faces of Knights players Sunday.

The first-year football team guarnteed itself a spot in the playoffs and could finish as high as third after a 13-12 thriller over Chicago Heights.

Rodney Coleman caught a 55-yard pass from Gordon Bitttner for the game decider with just 72 seconds left in the game. The win evens the Knights record at 3-3 heading into the final regular-season Chicagoland Football League game against the Untouchables Sept. 27 at 1 p.m. at Hanson Stadium.

"It was kind of a quick pass. Two defenders went to tackle him and they hit each other and he sprung free," Knights Coach Tom Nelson said.

Revenge top job for Bears

A poor start and finish to the first half by Lake Zurich was all it took for Crystal Lake South to come away with a Fox Valley Conference victory in a 28-13 romp.

The Bears are winless in their first eight FVC games since joining the league last year. The good news is the team faces the squad it came closest to beating in the FVC last year, Cary-Grove, next.

South took a 14-0 lead on two touchdown passes by Kevin Nawacak. But the Bears (0-1, 2-1) answered.

"(Justin) Blum called an audible at the line of scrimmage. He saw the pass to the corner of the end zone was open," Lake Zurich Coach Wayne Kuklinski said of an 18-yard strike from Blum to Jack Henderson.

But before one could say 'comeback', the Gators put two nails in the home team's coffin. One was a 41-yard run by Frank Marino, seconds after the Henderson score. The next was a two-yard run by Marino.

Volunteers use mock hospital to fight real diseases

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Several Lake County community leaders, including Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson, suddenly became ill while visiting Gurnee Mill Mall on Sept. 22.

Fortunately, her illness subsided after she, and nearly 60 other volunteers, raised nearly $13,000 for the American Lung Association of Lake County during county association's first ever Rescue 9-1-Lung fund-raiser.

Using a vacant end of the mall, lung association officials developed a mock hospital complete with wheelchairs, hospital gowns, and hefty bills the patients tried to pay before they were released, hopefully cured after one hour of pledging their closest friends and acquaintances.

"Once I started talking to people, it really became fun," said Richardson, who raised more than $500 to pay her bill. "I think this will also increase public awareness about lung diseases."

Richardson, who served as chairperson for the event, believes more research into a variety of lung diseases is needed and fundraisers like this create a fun way for organizations to earn money.

According to Heather Flood, who serves as the special events co-ordinator for the association, some of the money earned from the fund-raiser will help fight the growing number of lung associated diseases in Lake County.

"We were really happy with the results," said Flood, who added that they had a goal of reaching $15,000 in the 8-hour event.

In addition to the efforts of the local volunteers, numerous local businesses pitched in the help make the event so successful.

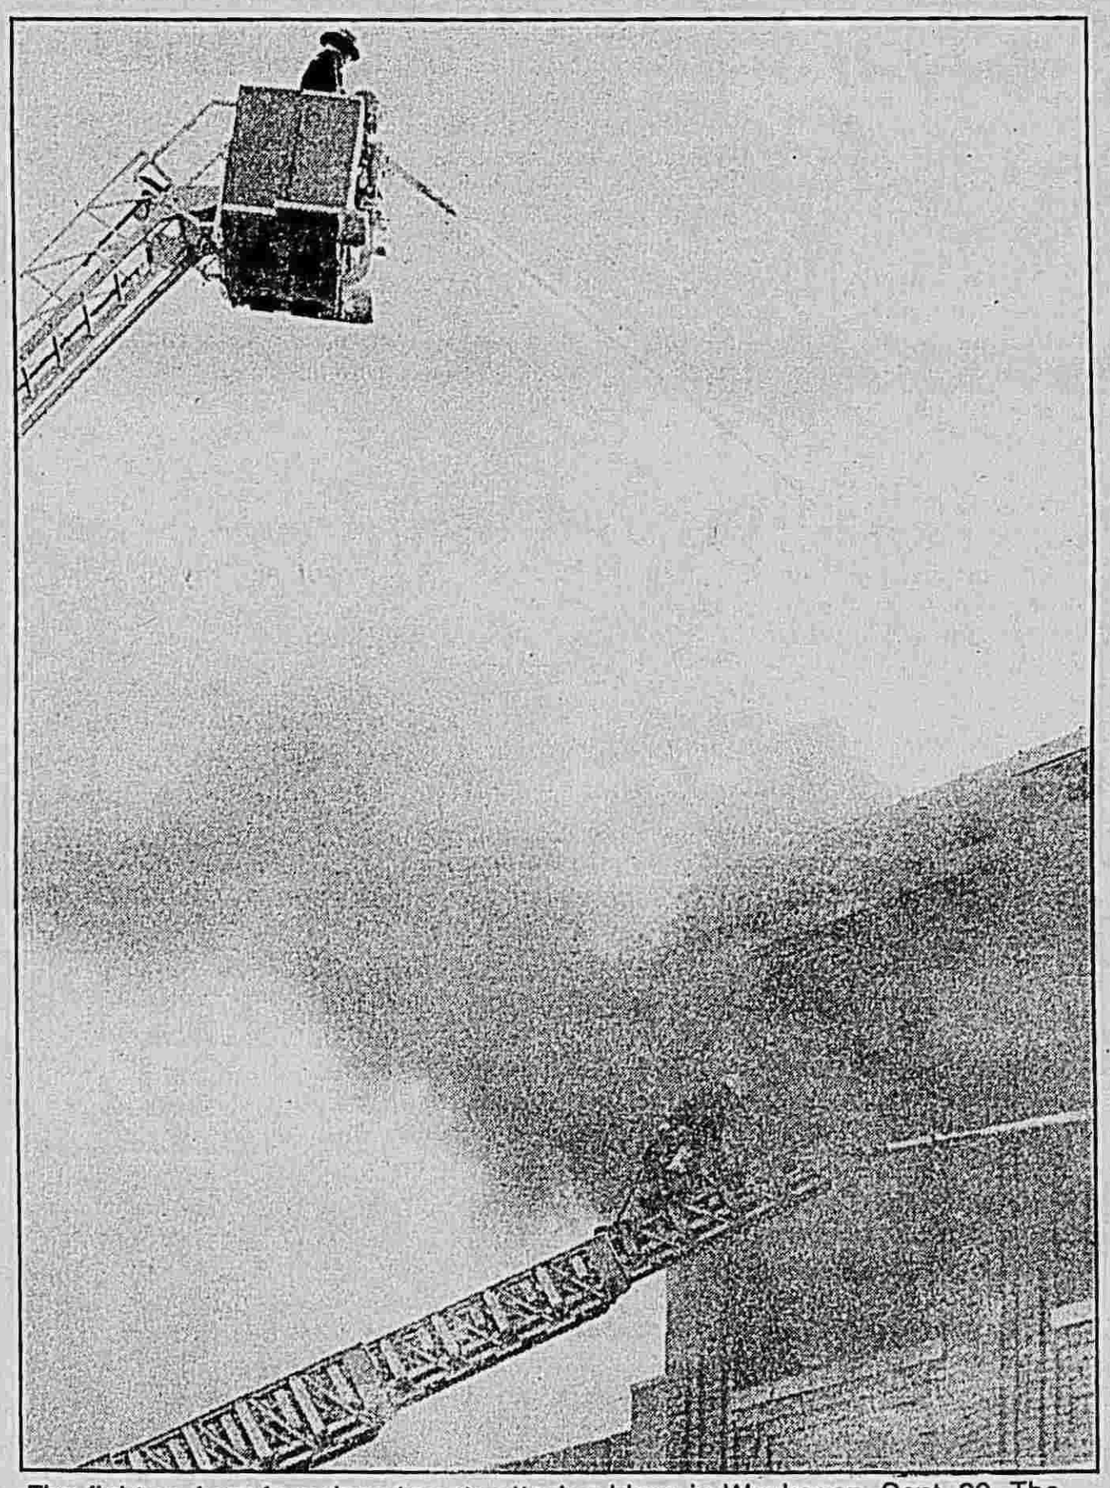

Car Tel Inc., of Mundelein, donated a score of cellular phones and the Cellular-One airtime needed to service the volunteers while they called for pledges. Other sponsors included Gurnee Mill Mall, Lakeland Newspapers, WXLC and WKRS radio stations, Condell Medical Center, Alpha Graphics, and the McDonald's Restaurant of Gurnee Mills Mall.

Lake County Coroner and Rescue 9-1-Lung Chairperson Barbara Richardson shows her resolve to fight lung diseases in Lake County when she participated in the event's ambulance ride and arrival at the mock hospital at Gurnee Mills Mall, helped by Gurnee Firefighter Steve Orusa and Gary Miller, and solicited pledges once inside.—Photos by Thomas Stevens.

Fire evicts 22 from homes

More than 50 firefighters from Waukegan, North Chicago, Gurnee and Zion responded to a blaze in Waukegan that evicted 22 people from their homes in the mid-afternoon, Sept. 22.

No injuries were reported. Blinding smoke and harsh flames from the third floor of a three-story brick building at 114 N. Genesee sent 12 adults and 10 children to the Waukegan police station, where Red Cross personnel aided and relocated them.

Smoke became the major factor in the fire and was cause for evacuating a number of businesses and the Lake County Courthouse. The fire apparently destroyed the roof and third floor of the buildings. Lower levels established significant water and smoke damage.

Skarda takes charge, gains Condell 10K title

More than 1,300 runners and walkers participated in the various Condell Distance Classic events Sunday, once again held without rain and in perfect weather conditions.

Libertyville resident Dan Skarda took home the first-place honors in the 10K with a time of 31:55. Debbie Revolta won the women's 10K in 35:43. The two won a five-day retreat at the Heartland Health and Fitness Spa in Gilman, Ill and plaques.

"I got beat out in the last 100 yards last year," Skarda recalled. Skarda, a graduate of Libertyville High School, has won the Condell race before.

"There were about three of us in the lead in the first mile," Revolta, cross country coach at Barrington High, said.

The runners featured toddlers on strollers, senior citizens, and couples.

"My mom, Majorie hurt her hip and one of her goals was to finish the 5K," Maragaret Silva said.

Ann Clark, age 83, was senior among the runners. "I took up jogging when I was 69. I had retired from teaching. I wasn't doing anything, not even riding a bike.

Dan Skarda

Johnny Williams, age 78, was the oldest male. He had an early start to his athletic career, as he was a boxer. "Now I teach fitness classes at the YMCA in Carol Stream," a fit-looking Williams said.

In the 10K masters division, Larry Swanson of Libertyville beat out Darryl Johnson, College of Lake County cross country coach and Gary Townsend of Oak Park.

Darsie Brown of Evanston won the female race.

James A. Leffelman of Libertyville won the boys 15-19 10K followed by Mark O'Brien of Lake Villa and Ruben Bonales of Lindenhurst.

Lindenhurst resident Sharon Renniger won the female race.

Terri Rodgers of Gurnee won the 10K female 24-29 age group while Jenny Gesell won the 25-29 group.

Larry Swanson gave Libertyville another title in the 40 to 44 male.

Emily K. Graser of Wadsworth was the winner in the 50 to 54 age women group.

All told, there were 1,335 runnes and walkers, 149 runners in the one mile fitness run; 509 in the 5K race-walk and the 10K had 677 runners.

Douglas Cook of Lake Villa won the one mile fun run for men followed by Ryan Eigner of Libertyville and Doug Hoadley of Libertyville and Kyle McClure in Prairie View in fifth.

Jenny Tanner of Libertyville won the female race.

Peg Cronin-Dean beat out two other area runners, Jill Tanel of Libertyville and Sally Sorensen of Grayslake in the female 5K run.

Todd Jacobsen of Mundelein was second, Craig Dean of Liberttyville third.

Preserve receives grant

For the sixth year, the Lake County Forest Preserve's Lake County Museum received a federal grant from the Institute of Museum Services. The $4,000 grant will be used for a one-yea project to preserve and care for select artifacts in the museum's Native American collection.

The project will include special training for the museum curators and volunteer collections aides that work with the collection. In addition, supplies will be purchased to help control pests and remove debris that threaten fragile artifacts. In kind services will make up the museum's contribution to this matching grant.

The museum's Native American collection is comprised of 140 artifacts, including pottery, beaded clothing and ceremonial and artistic items.

The museum is located on Rte. 176, just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda. Call 526-7878 for more information.

consolidate the four communities into one, are the egos of the people in the power spots in the four communities. If they think about it, it would be more economical, efficient, less taxing and better for the area if there were one driving force behind Round Lake, rather than four disjointed forces.

Try it yourself

It is time for the informed to inform the uninformed. This is in response to Teachers Paid Well. It is a shame that a college education does not prevent people from preaching about something they obviously know little about. Teachers in Dist. 46 are in one of the lowest paid districts in Lake County. I have a Master's degree and have worked several years within the district. I make half of the quoted $45,000 dollars. For a teacher to earn that salary, that person must a Master's degree and work in the district for at least 15 years. Teachers are scheduled for a 7 and 1/2 hour work day, however, that doesn't include the open houses, parent conferences, homework, preparation and grading of papers. Most teachers put in a full week before school even starts to set up the classroom. Lastly, teachers do not have 16 personal days. They have two, many of which are not used. Grayslake School District has one of the highest quality schools in Lake County. We have several new programs that have been developed to make our children successful. If you want to downplay teachers, visit the classroom first.

Where's the grocery store?

I'm calling from the north end of Mundelein. We just purchased a new home in one of the developments and are surrounded by hundreds and hundreds of other developments. And you know what? There's not even a grocery store around here. The only grocery store is the Jewel which is at the southern end of Mundelein. When you think about how many people have bought homes here, and about all of the money that goes into the taxes for the village of Mundelein, wouldn't you think that they would have the decency to build a grocery store here? Nope, they haven't. What am I paying over $5,000 in taxes for. Great village. Thank you.

Can't do a thing?

The Libertyville, Lake Forest and Mundelein police departments have told me that they are powerless to do anything about the selling of cigaret papers which are being purchased by kids and adults for use with marijuana. Have these police departments ever thought about enforcing the traffic laws of everyone who turns into these businesses. I'm sure than 90 percent of the people don't turn their turn signals on. I'm sure that a nice, stepped-up enforcement campaign, preceded by a friendly chat with the business owner that they either stop selling the papers or there will be a little enforcement on traffic violations going into or out of their driveway. This would have a serious effect in combatting marijuana use in this area. It is time to really clamp down and use every possible loophole to go after these people.

I've moved, thank God!

Wow! Am I glad about Lipservice and the person who wrote about the loud music coming from the bands at a Round Lake tavern. We recently moved away. On the weekends the music could go on to 3 or 4 a.m. I also had to listen to the loud and drinking volleyball teams. The volleyball has come out onto the main road as we were driving by. It may be zoned for business, but a tavern's business is to serve drinks, not to pollute the air with loud noise. Don't stop your music, just shut your windows. I don't have to listen to it anymore, but I feel sorry for the people who still live there.

Get an antenna

I'm calling for all the cable subscribers. I keep reading about how they complain about the rates, and how it always goes out just when something important is going to happen in a movie. Why don't you do what we did. Get an antenna, a VCR, and you're all set. You get a lot of channels in, and when you get a VCR you can rent any movie you like. Quit griping. Get a television, antenna and VCR.

Bicycle mafia

I am an Antioch senior citizen. In response to the visitor from California in the Sept. 18 issue, I wish I was able to thank you for observing my predicament from bicycle mafia. I had to replace the stapled stakes with the surveyor flags and the white fence with boulders 12 to 16 inches apart. The fence and the stakes did not help. The bicycle mafia deliberately defied this to show their superiority to this old lady. You would understand if you met the parents of these boys. I will also send copies of this reply throughout west and east coast. Lipservice, bless you for getting a big load off our chest. Thank you.

We will pay

Hi. I'm glad to call. I just got a questionnaire from Grant Township Supervisor. It's a public opinion survey for the proposed Grant Township Recreation Center. This whole idea is crazy. They say they can build this 17.2 acre baseball diamond, multi-purpose field, basketball court complex, without any increase in our taxes. It says they appropriated $15,000 toward the cost of the project each of the preceding five years, which had to be our money, I don't know where they got it from otherwise. They say it's not going to cost us anything to do this; our taxes will never go up. Well, first of all, they're putting that facility in the middle of nowhere. The seniors don't want to go down there; there's nobody that wants to go that far away when there are other facilities available that are closer to population. I don't know whose idea it was, but the whole thing is stupid. We live in a recreational area. Everyone's got a big yard. We've got two state parks and forest preserve. They want to build a couple of baseball diamonds? Are they crazy? This isn't going to cost us anything? I already heard that from a president, and it didn't work. It is going to cost us. Even if they get a grant, they'll have to devote the resources to administrate the project and maintain the facilities forever. Even if nobody uses it, it will still have to be maintained. Nobody is going to use it. We need this like we need a hole in the head.

Congratulations, Mom

I'm from Round Lake Beach, and I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate my mother for being elected to the Round Lake School Board. Mom, you have always been a concerned parent and resident of Round Lake Beach for the entire 38 years you've lived here. You've worked hard and I applaud you for it. You raised three kids and continue to be concerned for the children in the Round Lake Area. Mom, I love you.

View of America

My view of America. When I think of the United States, I think of freedom and the best country I've ever known. But we aren't the best country and it's really beginning to show. First of all, abortion. Babies are killed every day. School kids are arrested because in school they pray. There are gangs all around us in every single town. And God looks down upon us and I know he starts to frown. People lie and cheat; they use drugs and everything. People also steal and take just about anything. I don't think God likes it, but not everybody's bad. But there are certain somebodies who make God very mad. So when I think of America, I guess I really think: A — Abortion; M — Murder; E — Even kids getting arrested; R — Rights taken away; I — I think of God frowning; C — Cheaters and liars; A — Anybody else feeling the same way?

National Depression Screening Day

October 8, 1992 1 - 3 p.m. & 7 - 9 p.m.
Professional Office Building, 1st Floor Classroom
Saint Therese Medical Center

Saint Therese Medical Center in association with the American Psychiatric Association, Harvard Medical School and the National Depressive and Manic Depressive Association, is a sponsoring facility of National Depression Screening Day.

Consider these facts about depression: one in five adults may experience a depressive episode during their lifetime; less than one-third of those suffering from depression receive treatment; when treated, depression has a positive response rate of approximately 80%, but left untreated can be a life-threatening illness. As in other areas of medicine, an awareness of key symptoms and treatment strategies is essential for early intervention and optimal response to treatment.

In celebration of National Mental Health Awareness Week, we are offering free presentations on the causes, warning signs and treatment of depression. Individual, anonymous screenings for depressive symptoms will also be provided. If you are concerned about yourself, a friend or family member, or simply would like to learn more about the effective treatment approaches for depression now available, this is an event not to be missed, which won't be offered again until next year.*

 Depression screenings are provided as an educational service only, not as a substitute for a full psychiatric or psychological evaluation and treatment.*

Preserve acquires 245 acres

Public access to the Fox River will improve greatly following action taken by the Lake County Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners at the Sept. 18 meeting.

Purchase of the 245-acre Fox River Forest Preserve near the village of Island Lake for $5,8 million was approved by the Forest Preserve Board. The area, previously called The Moorings on Fox River, included a boat launch, marina, camp ground and picnic area. The site also features natural woodlands and wetlands.

"We're excited about the Fox River Forest Preserve because it will benefit Lake County residents in many ways," Andrea Moore said, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve.

"This new preserve will make it easier for the public to enjoy the Fox River, protect valuable open space and provide additional revenue-generating recreational opportunities for the Forest Preserve District."

No major changes in site operations are planned at the present time, according to Steven Messerli, Forest Preserve executive director.

He said that a Forest Preserve transition team has been created to make the change in ownership as smooth as possible for present boating and camping customers.

Fox River Forest Preserve is located on Roberts Road, south of Illinois Route 176 in Cuba and Wauconda Townships. Its acquisition brings the district's total acreage to 18,500.

Staffers come to Grayslake

For the next few weeks, campaign staff from the National Environmental Law Center will campaigning the streets of Grayslake with a clear message: Urge President Bush to demonstrate leadership on global warming.

Most citizens of Grayslake of Grayslake are aware and concerned about the global warming threat which we now face. At each home in Grayslake, campaign staffers will be asking residents to support the global warming campaign by becoming members of the NELC and signing a postcard to President Bush, urging him to endorse the NELC's energy efficiency platform.

The NELC is a nationwide, non-profit citizens' advocacy group.

Crime Stoppers

Crime Stoppers offers $7,000 for information

Crime Stoppers and the Waukegan Police Department in conjunction with the Lake County Major Crime Task Force are seeking information regarding a homicide investigation.

On Aug. 17, between 6 and 9 p.m., an unknown offender entered the residence located at 442 Hickory St., Waukegan, where an 11 year old victim was babysitting. The victim was assaulted, stabbed and subsequently murdered.

Crime Stoppers will pay a $1,000 cash reward for information leading to the arrest and indictment of the person responsible for this crime.

Besides the $1,000 cash reward through Crime Stoppers, several Fraternal Police Organizations and anonymous contributors have increased the total cash reward to $7,000.

If you have any information about the crime, call Crime Stoppers at 662-2222.

Crime Stoppers wants your information, not your name.

Former Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District Director Homer White is presented a gold watch by SWCD Chairwoman Ginny Nelson Wulf.

White honored

The Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District hosted a Sunday brunch for Homer White at Hunter's Country Club in Richmond, recently, honoring his 18 years of service to the district. While a director, White served in various capacities including five years as chairman and SWCD representative on regional and state committees.

A lifelong resident of Lake County, White resides on a portion of the original family farm in the Antioch area where he raises cattle.

Round Lake Beach secures new Com-Ed franchise

Round Lake Beach has become the latest community in Commonwealth Edison's northern Illinois service territory to secure the benefits of the company's new model franchise. The principal points of the new agreement are:

- Free electricity for operation of municipal buildings and municipally-owned traffic signals, worth approximately $25,700 and $3,2000, respectively on an annual basis.
- A cooperative removal and replacement plan for trees located beneath electric lines which may require trimming to maintain service reliability.
- Improved communications between Commonwealth Edison and municipal offices regarding unplanned outages, necessary service interruptions, and the coordination of construction plans.
- The option to bury a designated amount of overhead electrical distribution equipment each year.
- A new service policy which provides credit on electric bills for consumers who experience certain outages of 12 hours or more.
- A new franchise is for a term of 57 years, but may be reopened every 10 years or, if the municipality desires, cancelled after 35 years.

Round Lake Beach is the 164th municipality to adopt the new franchise.

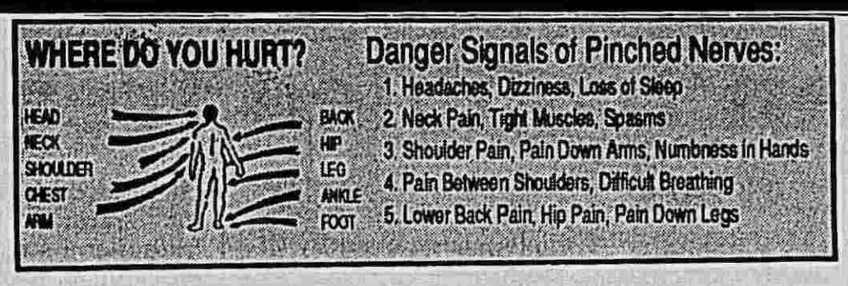

Midwife to speak at NOW meeting

Yvonne Cryns, a lay midwife and president of the Illinois Alliance of Midwifes, will be the featured speaker at the October meeting of the Lake County Chapter of the National Organizations for women,, to be conducted at 7 p.m., Oct. 5 at the Libertyville Township Office, 359 Merrill Ct.

Cryns will discuss how midwifes assist women with home births as well as her organization's efforts to make midwifery a legal option for childbirth. Cryns is the mother of seven and owner of Blessed Events Midwifery Services in Richmond.

Early fall color may mean troubled trees

Beware the colored leaves of fall—if they are among the first to appear. Trees that have already begun to show fall color may look pretty, but they are also signaling they are in trouble. The effects of drought, trunk injury, soil compaction or other stress-producing factors are likely to be responsible for the early fall color now evident.

"Typically, fall color in northeastern Illinois begins in mid to late September," notes arborist Scott Sutherland, district manager of the Lake Bluff office of Hendricksen the Care of Trees. "Fall color that appears before that time is a warning that something is not right with the trees. They need help."

According to Sutherland, some of the trees that are now turning color may have been injured with lawn mowers or other lawn maintenance equipment that have damaged their trunks. Others might be suffering from the effects of nearby construction, which can harm tree roots by compacting the soil around them or by completely severing them. But many, speculate Sutherland and other tree experts, may be suffering from the cumulative effect of the drought that has settled over the Midwest over the past four years.

"Well-meaning homeowners who have been watering to offset the effects of low rainfall may have inadvertently altered the pH, or acidity, of the soil in the process," says Sutherland.

"Most trees in northeastern Illinois are acid-loving. But water that comes out of the typical garden hose is very alkaline. So fertilizing stressed trees with acid-forming materials, such as sulfur, can be quite helpful."

Acid-forming fertilizers are available at most garden centers. Pay close attention to the label, and "don't overdo it," warns Sutherland. "Many fertilizers can burn. Especially with stressed trees, it's better to do frequent applications rather than apply a large quantity all at once.

"And it's best to start right away. Although if you're only going to do a single application, wait until fall gets into full swing." When in doubt, says Sutherland, "call an expert-a professional arborist or advisors at the Morton Arboretum and Chicago Botanic Garden."

Applying mulch, which consists of organic materials such as wood chips or composted leaves, can also help. Sutherland suggests spreading a two to four-inch layer of mulch around trees. For small trees (with trunks under eight inches in diameter), the mulch should begin about four inches away form the tree base. For larger trees the mulch can begin directly at the base of the tree. For trees of all sizes, mulch should extend outward in a circle—ideally as far as the branches reach.

Protect shrubs with fabric winter coat

Now is the time to savor those fleeting autumn days and the clean, brisk air, bright, blue skies, and crisp, vibrant colors they bring. Soon enough, icy winter winds and freezing drifts of snow may force every living thing to seek shelter. That is, every living thing except plants, shrubs, and trees, which will need your help to protect them.

Shrubs are a vital part of any landscape. In return for minimal care and attention, they provide privacy, buffer outside noise and wind, and naturally beautify any home. Just as homeowners depend upon their houses to keep them safe and secure through the harshest season of the year, shrubs must depend upon their owners to sustain them through the chilly days and nights ahead.

Instead of giving your plants the cold shoulder, take advantage of seasonal temperatures and apply a landscape fabric in fall to protect shrub roots against the icy winter chills to come.

Landscape fabric can be used around existing trees, shrubs or perennial flower beds. To begin, clear away all surrounding weeds or grass. Place strips of fabric over the entire area, laying it as close to the plants as possible. Trim away any excess. Then, cover the fabric with an attractive layer of gravel, pebbles or wood nuggets.

For new plantings, prepare your beds by simply laying down overlapping strips of the fabric over the bed and secure with fabric pegs. Cut out holes or x's with scissors or a knife where you intend to plant. Then, place plants directly through, into the soil.

While being out of doors is still a pleasurable experience, why not take the time this fall to apply a simple, inexpensive protectant to shrubs that will help carry them through the winter? An antitranspirant spray will do the job well.

As the ground begins to freeze, plants encounter great difficulty as they struggle to extract water from the soil. This problem most severely effects the evergreen. Unlike deciduous plants, which shed their leaves in winter, evergreens lose water through pores on their leaf surfaces all year round. As a result, the cold winter season can induce a loss of moisture which may cause brown foliage and potentially kill the shrub. Rapid temperature change can also be deadly, as evergreens react to unexpected warm spells by opening their pores and releasing moisture, while the necessary replenishing water is still trapped in the frozen soil.

Antitranspirant sprays coat stems and leaves with a protective film that holds in moisture, cushioning evergreens and other plants against drying, winter winds and sudden temperature dips. Such sprays, actually transparent polymer emulsions, are an inexpensive and easy way to seal and preserve the foliage of the plant, guarding against drought and heat, as well.

A thorough application of antitranspirant spray before the first frost should last three months. As ice and snow can wash away the protective coating, be sure to re-spray throughout the winter season. There should be no need to worry about potential harmful environmental repercussions of such sprays.

In addition to their ability to help plants retain important moisture, antitranspirant sprays also play a role in helping plants avoid fungal infections. Fungal infections, such as powdery mildew, can be severely damaging, even fatal, to plants and shrubs. Antitranspirant sprays may inhibit the germination of the spores that cause these diseases. When the spore is unable to germinate, it is incapable of infecting the plant or shrub.

Another ideal time to apply antitranspirant spray is after pruning. Experts agree that summer bloomers should be pruned in the wintertime, while they are dormant. Winter bloomers should be pruned then as well, immediately after they have flowered. Consequently, autumn is the perfect time to start planning to trim down those shrubs. A thorough application of antitranspirant spray after pruning strengthens and protects vulnerable, newly trimmed shrubs against the threat of winter kill, greatly enhancing their chances for survival during the cold winter season.

A small amount of attention and effort this fall can yield dramatic results in the spring to come. An antitranspirant spray and a landscape fabric are two very simple products that can help you grow a lush, healthy landscape that is both economical and easy to maintain throughout the year.

FALL IS FOR PLANTING™

Soil is warm, moist and easy to work with.
Cool weather and warm soil encourage strong roots.
Plants will have two seasons of cool weather and rain before the heat of summer.

HousingAuthority helps with homes

The Lake County Housing Authority has received funding for 200 housing vouchers for use in conjunction with the new Family Self-Sufficiency Program. FSS is designed to assist households to become economically independent. Program participants may be selected from the Authority's Section 8 waiting list according to the order in which the pre-applications were received—first come, first served. Current program participants may also participate in the FSS program.

FSS provides supportive services which assists a family to become economically independent. The supportive services may include but not necessarily be limited to education, job training, parenting skills, budgeting, child care and support groups. In addition, rental assistance may be available to those households selected for the program.

Interested heads of household must have a real desire to succeed in reaching whatever goal they establish for themselves. A contract between the family and the Authority is required in order to receive rental assistance. The five-year contract contains the Individual Plan each family will design for itself outlining the steps the family believes it needs to take toward self-sufficiency. Should the family not meet its obligations under the contract, rental assistance may be terminated. FSS replaces the current self-sufficiency programs the Authority has operated since 1985, Project Self-Sufficiency and Operation Bootstrap. Households currently participating in those programs may continue to do so but no new participants will be accepted.

Section 3. All unexpended balances of proceeds received annually from public library taxes not in excess of statutory limits may be transferred to the Special Reserve Fund, heretofore established according to Ill. Rev. Stat., Chap. 81, Sec. 1005-10, pursuant to plans developed and adopted by this Board and said unexpended balances shall be accumulated in this fund for the purpose of erecting a new library building, purchasing a site for the same, or building an addition thereto, or furnishing necessary equipment therefore. The Board further appropriates all sums accumulated in said fund or transferred thereto during the 1992/93 fiscal year subject to compliance with statutory procedures set forth above.

Section 4. Except as otherwise provided by law, no further appropriations shall be made at any time within such fiscal year, provided that this Board may from time to time make transfers between the various items in any fund not affecting the total amount appropriated, or appropriations in excess of those authorized by the budget in order to meet an immediate and unforeseen emergency by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the trustees present and voting, as provided by Ill. Rev. Stat., Chap. 81, Sec. 1004-16, et seq., and this Board may amend this budget and appropriation ordinance from time to time by the same procedure as prescribed by statute for the original adoption of a budget and appropriation ordinance; provided that nothing in this section shall be construed to permit transfer between funds required by law to be kept separate. Any remaining balances after the close of the fiscal year up to twenty percent (20%) of the appropriation shall be available until August 30th for the authorization of payment of obligations incurred prior to the close of the fiscal year, and until September 30th for the payment of such obligations, and any remaining balances shall be available for the transfer to special reserve to be accumulated, as provided by Ill. Rev. Stat., Chap. 81, Sec. 1004-16.

Section 5. Pursuant to Ill. Rev. Stat., Chap. 81, Sec. 1003-1, the amount to be included in the 1992/93 levy for the Building and Equipment Fund in the maximum amount of Thirty-seven Thousand and no/100 Dollars ($37,000.00) is subject to a ceiling of .02 percent of the value of all of the taxable property in this district, as equalized or assessed, and was authorized by resolution passed on November 20, 1991, and published on December 6, 1991, in a secular newspaper of general circulation within this library district.

Section 6. This Ordinance is passed pursuant to statutory authority and the Illinois Public Library District Act, Chap. 81, Sec 1003, et seq.; Sec. 1004-15, et seq.; and Sec 1005-10, et seq.; the Illinois Municipal Budget Law, Chap. 85, Sec. 801, et seq.; and the Illinois Revenue code, Chap. 120, Sec. 638, et seq., and other statutes hereunto appertaining.

Section 7. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval, and publication, according to law.

PASSED by the Board of Library Trustees and the Round Lake Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, on this 16th day of Sept., 1992, by a vote of:
